THIS IS BIGHORN MOUNTAIN COUNTRY

The world comes out west expecting to see cowboys driving horses through the streets of downtown; pronghorn butting heads on windswept bluffs; clouds encircling the towering pinnacles of the Cloud Peak Wilderness; and endless expanses of wild, open country. These are some of the fibers that have been stitched together over time to create the patchwork quilt of Sheridan County's identity, each part and parcel to the Wyoming experience. Toss in a historic downtown district, with western allure, hospitality and good graces to spare; a vibrant art scene; bombastic craft culture; a robust festival and events calendar; and living history on every corner, and you have a Wyoming experience unlike anything you could have ever imagined. This is Sheridan County, the beating heart of Bighorn Mountain Country. We cannot wait to show you around The Backyard - but before we do, visit our website to check out our new streaming series. Season 2 is out this fall.

WELCOME TO WYOMING!

The First Lady and I want to take this opportunity to welcome you to Wyoming. Whatever type of visit you have planned, we encourage you to use this guide to learn about all that our state has to offer. Wyoming is a place of remarkable beauty, with iconic landscapes and welcoming communities that together offer all types of travelers a unique experience.

Whether you're seeking outdoor adventure, a taste of authentic Western culture or a journey through history, you'll find something special in every part of our state. Along with spectacular scenery, world-class wildlife and thousands of square miles of public lands, Wyoming has historic and cultural attractions aplenty. Traveling our scenic byways and backroads will take you across wide-open vistas, through stunning mountain ranges and family-friendly communities that reflect the best of small-town America.

While exploring these beautiful areas we encourage you to travel responsibly. The places we love to experience need to be treated with care to ensure future generations can enjoy them as well. Keep our wide-open spaces clean and as untouched as possible. And remember that Wyoming's wildlife is truly wild — keep your distance and respect their habitat.

Wherever your Wyoming travels take you, I am certain your adventures will include a taste of our Western hospitality and an experience that will make you want to return.

Safe travels,

Mark Gordon

Governor Mark Gordon

On behalf of all of Wyoming, it is my privilege to invite you and your family to safely experience all that this incredible state has to offer. No state has fewer people and more room for adventure.

As a native to Wyoming, I feel honored to experience our amazing parks, monuments, historic sites and other recreational areas. Wyoming is full of adventure and discovery. From the geothermal features in Yellowstone to our fossils hidden beneath the earth, there is something for everyone. During your travels, be sure to explore at least one of Wyoming's 21 scenic byways while listening to its exclusive podcast as you twist, turn and climb through some of the state's most breathtaking landscapes.

While the outdoors is notable, it is Wyoming's pioneering spirit and deep-rooted Western hospitality that makes our destination truly remarkable. Wyoming is considered one of the last bastions of the West. Experience one of our famous rodeos or stay at a dude ranch to capture that Western spirit. Our guides, ranchers, hoteliers and many others strive to make your trip safe and memorable.

The people of Wyoming cannot wait to welcome you and share how Wyoming inspires them through art, home-cooked meals, locally sourced spirits and handmade goods. As you experience our great state for yourselves, we ask that you do so responsibly, keeping the health of our natural space's wildlife, residents and fellow travelers in mind. By working together, we can maintain Wyoming as a source of inspiration for years to come.

We cannot wait to welcome you as a modern explorer to our Western state. At the end of your journey, you will understand why Wyoming is such a special place. For now, turn the page and start planning your trip. We will be waiting.

GETTING TO KNOW WYOMING

The rugged Rocky Mountains meet the majestic High Plains in Wyoming, which abounds with wild landscapes, wide-open expanses and enduring Western traditions.

BY THE NUMBERS

97,800 SQ. MILES

48 percent of Wyoming's lands are public.

450 BIRD SPECIES

100 MAMMAL SPECIES

The bison is the state mammal and the meadowlark is the state bird.

7TH LARGEST RESERVATION

The Wind River Indian Reservation, home to Eastern Shoshone and Northern Arapaho tribes, is the seventh largest Native American reservation in the U.S. and the only reservation to house two tribes.

6 PEOPLE PER 1 SQ. MILE

While the state is the 10th largest in the U.S. in square mileage, it is the least populated, with six people for every square mile — ensuring there's plenty of room to roam without the crowds.

WYOMING TIPS

MAKE RESERVATIONS

Most Wyoming campsites require reservations, especially during peak season, May–September. Luckily, there are online reservation systems to help: TravelWY.com/state-park-reservations, recreation.gov and yellowstonenationalparklodges.com.

BE ALTITUDE READY

Many of Wyoming's popular destinations are pretty high up. It may take you a couple days to acclimate, especially if you're coming from sea level. Remember: Drink plenty of water, go easy on alcohol and rest for a day or two before doing anything too strenuous.

CELL COVERAGE

Cell service and bandwidth are limited in Wyoming's more remote areas, so don't be surprised if you can't receive calls or texts or access the internet. Download maps and other key travel information before you hit the road. When exploring the great outdoors, always tell someone where you're going and when you plan to return. Disconnecting can be a good thing, of course, but only if you've planned for it.

DRIVE SAFELY

Always remember to observe posted speed limits. Please use pullouts to watch wildlife, take pictures and let other cars pass. Keep in mind that gas and service stops might be few and far between, so fill up when you can. Highways will shut down for hazardous winter-driving conditions, so please check routes before heading out and be flexible with travel plans. Find more driving tips at TravelWY.com/cartravel.

PACK SMART

Wyoming's wide elevation range means temperatures can swing drastically depending on region and even time of day. No matter the season, plan to dress in easily removable layers and bring a water-resistant jacket. Wear your parka, hat and gloves in winter.

ACCESSIBLE OUTDOORS

Wyoming is known for its breathtaking outdoor spaces and national parks — in this guide watch for attractions marked with  for travel ideas that can be visited by people of all abilities. Call ahead for the most up-to-date accessibility information at your chosen destination. Learn more about accessibility in Wyoming at TravelWY.com/accessibility.

PET RULES

Keep your dog on a 6-foot leash, pack out the poops and check ahead so you know where your pup may or may not be welcome. Turn to p. 50 to learn about pet rules at national parks and monuments.

RESPECT WILDLIFE

Do not approach animals to take pictures and always remember to be aware of your surroundings. Please don't feed the wildlife.

Find more Wyoming facts and tips at TravelWY.com/faqs and TravelWY.com/more.

WYOMING SEASONS AT A GLANCE

Learn more about Wyoming's seasons at TravelWY.com/seasons.

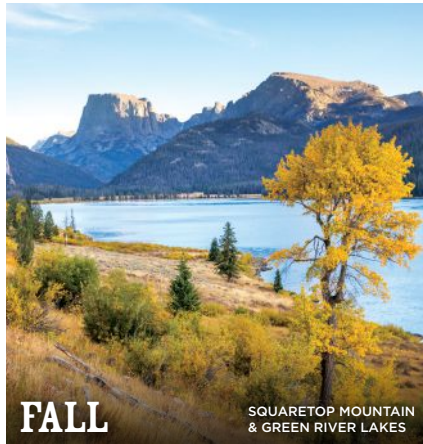

SUMMER

@momentsinstilled
HOBACK RANGE

Summer features warm days and cool nights with low humidity. The comfortable temperatures encourage visitors to partake in activities in Wyoming's unspoiled wilderness, even when the sun goes down.

Things to Do: Camping under the stars, hiking, rodeo watching, horseback riding, rafting, rock climbing and experiencing historical sites and attractions are just a few options.

FALL

SQUARETOP MOUNTAIN
& GREEN RIVER LAKES

Autumn's crisp, sunshine-filled days and color-changing leaves enhance the beauty of landscapes statewide.

Things to Do: Encounter splendid autumn scenery while driving scenic byways, strolling main streets virtually unchanged since the Old West, fishing in crystalline alpine lakes, and hiking and biking on trails lined with golden aspens. This shoulder season is also an excellent time to visit some of Wyoming's most popular attractions.

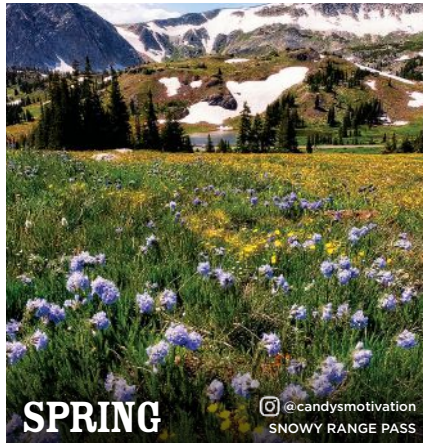

WINTER

@abilash.sekar
NORRIS GEYSER BASIN,
YELLOWSTONE

Winter temperatures can dip into the low digits, but the dry air facilitates perfect, fluffy snow for skiing and snowboarding at world-class resorts like Jackson Hole and other cold-weather pursuits.

Things to Do: Go snowshoeing, cross-country skiing, fat biking, snowmobiling, ice fishing and ice climbing — or explore the stunning otherworldly backdrops at Yellowstone National Park and Grand Teton National Park. Learn more about winter in Wyoming on p. 80.

SPRING

@candysmotivation
SNOWY RANGE PASS

While snowfall is common through May at higher elevations, increasingly warmer days make spring a great time to enjoy many quintessential winter activities.

Things to Do: Enjoy skiing, snowshoeing and snowmobiling (depending on snow conditions). Since many species of wildlife migrate to higher elevations in search of fresh flora in March, April and May, spring is also a prime wildlife-watching season. Plus, this shoulder season is a superb time to cross some of Wyoming's most popular attractions off your bucket list.

IMPORTANT FIRSTS

1869

The Wyoming Territory approved the first unconditional law in the U.S. permanently guaranteeing women their inherent right to vote and hold office more than 50 years before women could vote and hold office in the U.S.

1872

Yellowstone was designated America's first national park by President Ulysses S. Grant.

1904

The term "dude ranch" was coined at Eatons' Ranch in Wolf, which is the country's first and oldest dude ranch and still welcomes guests today.

1906

Devils Tower was designated America's first national monument by President Theodore Roosevelt.

BE FLEXIBLE & INFORMED.

Do your research and be flexible with plans. If a trailhead parking lot is full, have lesser-known backup options ready. If you plan to camp, understand the differences between designated and dispersed campgrounds and pack accordingly. Learn more at TravelWY.com/wyresponsibly.

TOP FOSSIL DESTINATIONS IN WYOMING

Explore Wyoming's ancient landscape for startling fossil discoveries that date back hundreds of millions of years.

BIGHORN BASIN GEOSCIENCE CENTER

= ACCESSIBLE ATTRACTION

Eyeing the sagebrush desert around Kemmerer, you might not guess that a freshwater lake thrived here 52 million years ago. Yet — thanks to ancient lake sediments — you can discover awesomely preserved specimens at Fossil Butte National Monument . The visitor center features 400-plus fossils and casts, from jewel beetles to crocodylians. Summer programs include fossil-preparation demos and digs for the museum's collection. Want to dig and keep your finds? Check out Ulrich's Fossil Gallery and American Fossil nearby.

The Bighorn Basin Geoscience Center Museum brings the awe of this fossil-rich area to downtown Greybull. And with deposits dating as far back as the Cambrian Period (550 million years!), fossil fans have much to shout about. Hundreds of fossils, some you can touch, and a 40-foot mural bring the area's ancient ecosystems to life. Check for educational events, workshops and tours of significant area sites, including the Red Gulch Dinosaur Tracksite . And while you're downtown, pop into the Greybull Museum for local history. Find more fam-friendly dino experiences on p. 62.

Book a stay at Bliss Dinosaur Ranch in Weston for an experience you'll really dig: Your proprietor will guide you on an excavation of his property, which sits on 3,500 acres of the legendary Hell Creek Formation. Through the years, hundreds of specimens have been unearthed on the ranch, from triceratops horns to T-rex teeth ... you might even take some home as souvenirs. Bonus: The ranch's guest quarters are decorated with treasures from previous digs.

Follow a mile-long trail through the Sundance and Morrison Formations at Cottonwood Creek Dinosaur Trail in Alcova. Signage and dinosaur-fossil evidence help you imagine the area during the late Triassic and early Jurassic periods. Or head to the Wyoming Dinosaur Center in Thermopolis for its expansive fossil collection (think 58 spectacular mounted skeletons) and hands-on programs like Dig for a Day, Kids Dig and the five-day Dinosaur Academy. Search for fossil specimens in an active dinosaur excavation site, then tour the museum with an expert guide.

10 DAYS IN wild CARBON COUNTY

Wyoming adventure awaits in Carbon County's rugged Western towns. Start your trip from the south and progress west toward Rawlins, with stops along the way to soak up the area's must-sees.

2 days / ENCAMPMENT & RIVERSIDE

Found along the foothills of the Sierra Madre Mountain Range, Encampment and Riverside offer a double-dose of outdoorsy bliss for the adventure-loving traveler. Stop for Grand Encampment Museum's ranching relics, rugged views of Medicine Bow National Forest (enjoyed best on foot along a section of the Continental Divide Trail) and the Thomas Edison marker that looks over brilliantly blue Battle Lake along the Battle Pass Scenic Byway. Feeling hungry? A ginormous Mountain Man pizza with Italian sausage, pepperoni, ham bacon and ground beef will soothe your empty tum at The Divide. For sweet dreams and lots of rustic allure, stay at the Spirit West River Lodge or Lazy Acres Campground, RV Park & Motel. Or, tack on some extra vacation days at A Bar A Ranch, a nearly 100,000-acre cattle and guest ranch along the banks of the North Platte River.

1 day / BAGGS, DIXON & SAVERY

Your road trip begins along the Colorado–Wyoming border as you travel through three charming towns steeped in frontier history — Baggs, Dixon and Savery. Pause for Wild West lore at Baggs Outlaw Stop and the Little Snake River Museum before continuing on the Battle Pass Scenic Byway for winding roads and breathtaking terrain. If you're feeling thirsty, mosey on over to The Cowboy Inn or the Dixon Club for a refreshing adult beverage. When it's time to retire, you'll have everything you need at Dixon Motel & Club. Or, if your schedule is loose: Ranch life calls for an extended stay at Three Forks Ranch or Antelope Ranch, where you'll horseback ride, fish and hike through Wyoming's scenic Little Snake River Valley.

3 days / SARATOGA

Known just as much for its blue-ribbon trout fishing as it is for its toasty mineral hot springs, Saratoga is a nature-lover's paradise cradled by the massive peaks of the Snowy and the Sierra Madre mountain ranges. You'll love this laid-back town for its easy access to all the things you love to do in Wyoming, like hiking, camping, hunting, snowmobiling and so much more. Stop to enjoy downtown Saratoga's unspoiled charm, then take a steamy soak in Hobo Hot Springs or go fly-fishing along the Upper North Platte River — where you just might spot a bald eagle. For some much-needed calories after a day spent outdoors: You'll delight in heavenly deli meats at Saratoga Sandwich Company or high-quality comfort food served with unique whiskeys at Firewater Public House. Then rest your head at Saratoga Hot Springs Resort or Hotel Wolf. Both offer one-of-a-kind Western history and delicious on-site restaurants.

1 day / ELK MOUNTAIN

As the northern gateway to the Snowy Range, Elk Mountain is a perfect place to pause for a day of tranquility. Found at the base of its namesake — the more than 11,000-foot-high Elk Mountain — this tucked-away locale got its start in the mid-1800s as a stage stop along the Overland Trail. You'll love Elk Mountain Museum's quirky local collections, plus the ample wildlife along the rugged and rolling Pass Creek Road. Be sure to savor the big, juicy steaks at the Historic Elk Mountain Hotel Restaurant before retreating to your room just a few steps away.

1 day / HANNA & MEDICINE BOW

Founded originally to serve miners and locomotives, the towns of Hanna and Medicine Bow will appeal to the historian and nature lover alike. You'll revel in the expansive sage-brush flats — and might see a nimble pronghorn (or three). Tour the Hanna Basin Museum and the Medicine Bow Museum for Western treasures, then head out for some fly-fishing along the cascading Medicine Bow River for trophy-sized rainbow and brown trout. After a day on the go, you'll appreciate hearty saloon fare and a room for the night at The Historic Virginian Hotel.

PLAN YOUR TRIP

Head to WyomingCarbonCounty.com for the most up-to-date travel information as you map out your road trip!

2 days / SINCLAIR & RAWLINS

Once a remote and rowdy railroad stop, Rawlins — along with nearby Sinclair — delivers a welcoming, Old West atmosphere and lots to do. You'll love Seminoe State Park's otherworldly grandeur, downtown Rawlins for dining and shopping (take a walking tour for historic insight), Rochelle Ranch Golf Course's rolling greens and The Wyoming Frontier Prison's colorful criminal stories. Make stops for slow-cooked prime rib sammies and savory steaks at the Aspen House Restaurant, then pull over for the night at one of Rawlins' numerous hotels and motels.

GREEN RIVER, STAR VALLEY SCENIC BYWAY

STARTING POINT ROUTE A:
EVANSTON DOWNTOWN VISITOR CENTER

ROUTE A (FROM EVANSTON)

A Roundhouse & Rail Yards Evanston

Evanston is home to one of the only remaining complete roundhouses on the old Union Pacific line between Omaha and Sacramento. This historical building — used by railroads to store and service locomotives — has a turntable that is still operational.

B Fort Bridger State Historic Site Fort Bridger

Several restored buildings highlight the history of this 19th-century fur-trading post, a vital supply stop for wagon trains traversing the Oregon, California and Mormon trails. Tour the reconstructed trading post and museum.

C Fossil Butte National Monument near Kemmerer

Colorful geologic formations rise about 1,000 feet above Twin Creek Valley and possess some of the world's best-preserved fossils, including those of fish, insects, plants, reptiles, birds and mammals.

D Fossil Country Frontier Museum Kemmerer

A sampling of annual exhibits at this hidden gem includes a replica coal mine, bootlegging stills and wine presses, along with a preserved footprint belonging to a hadrosaurid (otherwise known as a duck-billed dino).

E Star Valley Scenic Byway

This picturesque 80-mile stretch of Highway 89 starts at the Idaho-Wyoming border, climbs up Salt Canyon and Salt River Pass and descends into sprawling and verdant Star Valley. Then the route continues through the quaint communities of Smoot, Afton, Grover, Thayne and Etna before reaching Alpine and ending at the Lincoln County line in Snake River Canyon. Watch for the World's Largest Antler Arch, a collection of more than 3,000 shed antlers woven together over an Afton highway.

F Intermittent Spring Afton

Known as the “spring that breathes,” the Intermittent Spring near Afton is one of only three periodic springs in the world that flows on predictable intervals. To get there, head east on Second Avenue in Afton and hike the short trail along Swift Creek.

G Jackson Hole Aerial Tram Teton Village

Ride the tram in Teton Village up 4,139 feet to unparalleled wraparound views of Bridger-Teton National Forest and Grand Teton National Park.

FROM LEFT: KATIE BOUE, ANDY AUSTIN, WYOMING OFFICE OF TOURISM/DISCOVERY NETWORKS.

STARTING POINT ROUTE B:
FLAMING GORGE NATIONAL RECREATION AREA

ROUTE B (FROM GREEN RIVER)

H Flaming Gorge National Recreation Area
near Green River

Named for the landscape’s natural kaleidoscopic hues, 207,636-acre Flaming Gorge is a land of living color. The reservoir is perfect for boating, fishing and kayaking, and the whimsical rock formations that frame the water change colors and perspective with varying sunlight. Tour this stretch of scenic roadway via bus tours with local guides. More info: tourwyoming.com/flaming-gorge-tour.

I Seedskadee National Wildlife Refuge ♿
Green River

More than 220 bird species inhabit Seedskadee National Wildlife Refuge, which protects 27,230 acres of riparian, wetland and upland shrub habitats along the Green River. Keep your eyes peeled for bald eagles, trumpeter swans, moose and mule deer, or guarantee yourself wildlife spectacles within the refuge’s family-friendly welcome center.

J Killpecker Sand Dunes
near Rock Springs

See Wyoming’s wild geologic past in action at the Killpecker Sand Dunes located north of Rock Springs. Buttes, spires and towering dunes — including the 400-foot-tall volcanic Boar’s Tusk — will inspire Instagram posts galore, while ATVers will delight in 11,000 acres of scenic landscape.

K Farson Mercantile & Ice Cream Shop
Farson

Whether your flavor of choice is butter pecan or mint chocolate chip, a stop at Farson Mercantile — home of the “Big Cone” — for a scoop (or three) is a must. The crowd-pleasing pit stop also serves pizza, coffee and sandwiches.

L The Museum of the Mountain Man
Pinedale

The fur-trade era comes alive through period artifacts and authentic reproductions. Exhibits include an exact replica of an 1800s Sioux lodging and a life-size grizzly bear-attack diorama — featuring frontiersman Hugh Glass and inspired by the 2015 movie “The Revenant.”

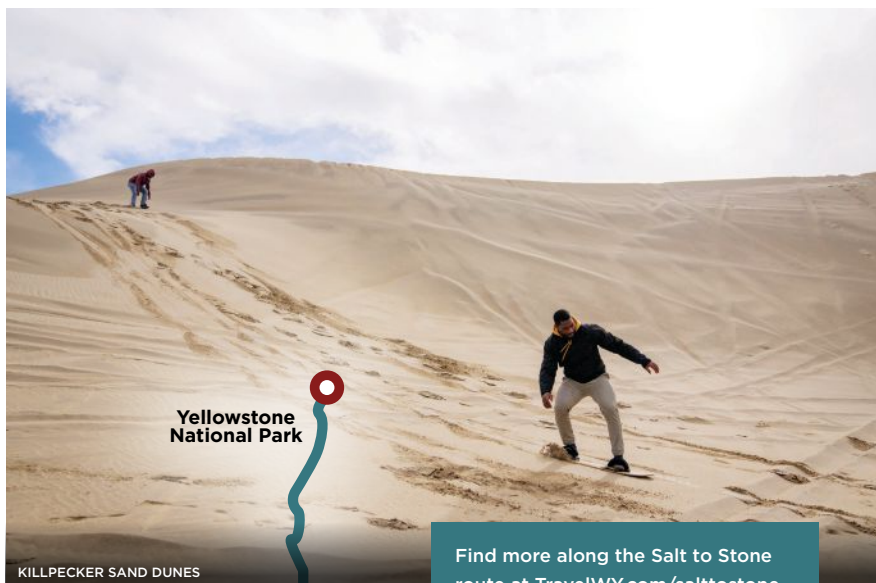

M Green River Lakes & Squaretop Mountain
near Pinedale

A pair of sparkling green-blue lakes in the Bridger-Teton National Forest, Green River Lakes boast awe-inspiring vistas of the Wind River Range’s photogenic 11,695-foot Squaretop Mountain.

N The National Museum of Wildlife Art
Jackson

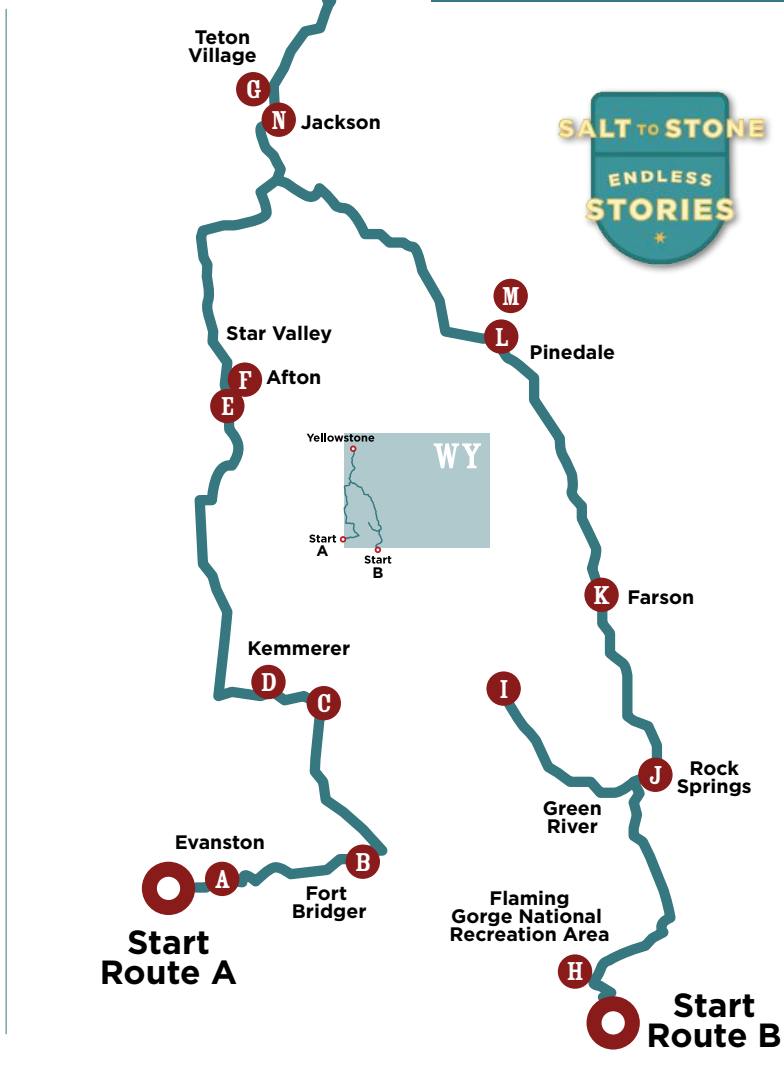

The National Museum of Wildlife Art in Jackson has more than 5,000 works of art representing animals from around the world, including pieces by Georgia O’Keeffe, Andy Warhol and John James Audubon. An additional bonus: It has incredible views of the National Elk Refuge.

PIEDMONT CHARCOAL KILNS STATE HISTORIC SITE | near Evanston

●●●●○ 4.5

"This historic site is about 20 miles east of Evanston, well off the interstate near the location of the 'ghost town' of Piedmont. Three large charcoal kilns remain there from the mid-1800s. ●●●●○ 4.5

"The minute we pulled off Hwy. 191 and onto CR4-14 we saw four wild horses. Beautiful. The dirt road is bumpy but, if you take it slowly, it's fine. Not only are you looking for wild horses, but the views are spectacular. You even can get great views of Pilot Butte. Farther down the road we were able to see four more wild horses, so it was a great day." — billandgeorgeanna

Drive the Wyoming Women’s Suffrage Pathway, a 19-mile segment of Hwy. 28, on your way to a living ghost town complete with 17 authentically restored structures. The 1860s-era mining town is where Esther Hobart Morris served as justice of the peace and became the first woman to hold political office in the U.S.

H Lander Bar
Lander

Originally opened as a saloon in 1908, the bar served as a hotel, brothel and boarding house — among other things — before it was turned back into a saloon. Order a whiskey or craft beer, the perfect thirst quenchers after a day of rock climbing at nearby Sinks Canyon State Park.

I Museum of the American West
Lander

Wander among original late-1800s log cabins and a white-painted schoolhouse for period artifacts like old-fashioned writing slates and quills. Indoor/outdoor exhibits teach about the Eastern Shoshone and Northern Arapaho peoples, the area’s later inhabitants and what life was like on the Western frontier.

J Wind River Indian Reservation Driving Tour

This self-guided tour of the Wind River Indian Reservation takes visitors to sites significant to the history and culture of the Eastern Shoshone and Northern Arapaho tribes who call it home, including the grave of Chief Washakie, the last chief of the Shoshone tribe.

K National Bighorn Sheep Center
Dubois

The world’s largest wintering herd of bighorn sheep roams this remote area. Stop by the National Bighorn Sheep Center to view exhibits about the majestic mammals and set up a guided or solo tour to see them in their natural habitat.

OLD FAITHFUL & NEW FINDS

1 HOUR, 1 DAY OR 1 WEEKEND IN YELLOWSTONE

A dynamic volcanic hotspot that also boasts more than 1,000 miles of hiking trails, nearly 300 waterfalls and the largest concentration of mammalian wildlife in the lower 48 states? That's what we call a national treasure. Here's how to cash in on Yellowstone's riches, no matter how much time you have to spend.

YELLOWSTONE IN AN HOUR

If you're aiming for the Yellowstone speed record, make a beeline for the park's most famous feature: Old Faithful Geyser. With approximately 20 eruptions every day, this reliable geyser's frequency can be predicted with 90 percent accuracy, within about 10 minutes. Avoid the crowds with an early morning visit, then tuck in for a hearty breakfast at the Old Faithful Inn, a true icon of pioneer architecture.

MIDWAY GEYSER BASIN
@Kim Seng

YELLOWSTONE IN A DAY

While you can't see all of Yellowstone in a single day, it's relatively easy to prioritize the fascinating geothermal features for which the park is best known. Starting in the early morning at the east entrance, head to the West Thumb Geyser Basin, on the edge of Yellowstone Lake. Two short boardwalk loops will take you past the steaming Thumb Paint Pots, vibrant Abbyss Pool and minuscule Fishing Cone. Then head over to Old Faithful for the next eruption, followed by a casual lunch at Geyser Grill.

Your next stop is Midway Geyser Basin, also known as Hell's Half Acre for the vaporous clouds clinging to its banks. The main attraction here is Grand Prismatic Spring — the third-largest hot spring in the world. This pool is bigger than a football field. Its enchanting colors are caused by the different species of heat-loving bacteria that live in the spring.

Next, you're off to the Grand Loop just south of Madison. Take Firehole Lake Drive, a 3-mile scenic trip past at least a dozen geothermal features. With luck, you'll catch one of Great Fountain Geyser's breathtaking and highly unpredictable displays.

If you're feeling adventurous (and time's on your side), keep going for Artist Point's bucket-list overlook of the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone's tumbling Lower Falls, then over to Brink of the Upper Falls overlook for more cascading grandeur. Now, head for serene mountain views surrounding Yellowstone Lake and back out the east entrance. Feeling hungry? Pause for a casual dinner at the historical Lake Yellowstone Hotel dining room.

YELLOWSTONE IN A WEEKEND

DAY 1: Come in through the park's eastern entrance and head north to Mammoth Hot Springs. With a fantastical landscape straight out of Middle Earth, it's like a limestone cave turned inside out. Two boardwalks give you access to more than 50 geothermal features — including free-standing Liberty Cap, colorful Minerva and Palette Springs and Angel Terrace. History buffs will enjoy a quick side trip to Fort Yellowstone, just a stone's throw from the springs.

With an early start, you can tour the springs area and still set up your reserved campsite at Norris by 10 a.m. Break to make camp and lunch, then it's off to Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone. This 20-mile-long, 1,000-foot-deep natural work of art is best explored on foot, with the canyon's colorful walls rising around you. There are 10 official overlook spots in the canyon, and Artist Point is one of the most popular. After uttering your "oohs" and "aahs" at the spectacular view of Lower Falls crashing into the river below, leave the paved trail and keep hiking along the canyon's south rim to Point Sublime.

DAY 2: Due northeast from Norris is the Lamar Valley. Thanks to a reliable water supply, lush vegetation and panoramic vistas, it's known as "America's Serengeti" for its large, easily visible wildlife population. On any given day, you might see herds of bison, pronghorn or deer; bald eagles and osprey in flight; or a badger, coyote or grizzly.

Nature-loving anglers can kill (or rather, catch and release) two birds with one stone, as the tranquil Lamar River offers some of Yellowstone's best fly-fishing. Surrounded by rolling verdant hills in all directions — and interrupted only by glimpses of the valley's plentiful fauna — visitors can expect to hook both rainbow and native Yellowstone cutthroat trout up to 15 inches long.

This afternoon, you're headed due south for an up-close-and-personal view of Yellowstone Lake. The largest high-elevation lake in North America and nearly 400 feet deep in places, it's too cold for swimming but is wonderful to explore by kayak or canoe.

Because of the lake's many hidden underwater geysers, submerged fumaroles and other geothermal features, we recommend a guided tour with one of the many outfitters in the area. After your paddle, enjoy a rewarding dinner in the charming Lake Yellowstone Hotel Dining Room before bidding farewell to the park — until next time.

GRAND TETON IN AN HOUR

If you're en route to Yellowstone or other points farther afield and only have an hour or so to play with, you're in luck — that's ample time to soak up some sights. Here are three ideas, which can be combined to fill a day trip.

TETON PARK ROAD

Known as the 42-Mile Scenic Loop Drive, the thoroughfare offers a great overview of the park, with stunning vistas of the Tetons and plenty of wildlife-viewing opportunities along the way. Pick up a map at Craig Thomas Discovery and Visitor Center, then choose a specific part of the loop to explore.

MORMON ROW HISTORIC DISTRICT

Listed on the National Register of Historic Places, this photogenic tract of land was founded as a ranch settlement in the 1890s. Many of the original homesteads have been preserved, providing a slew of glorious photo ops with the majestic Tetons looming in the distance.

TAGGART LAKE TRAIL

The moderate route's short length (about 3 miles round trip) and minor elevation gain (roughly 300 feet) make it ideal for quick visits, big groups and little hikers. A handful of stream crossings and pretty lake views are sure to please any crew.

GRAND TETON IN A WEEKEND

Two to three days in the park can be a life-changing experience. Here's a flexible this-or-that itinerary to help you plan your perfect getaway.

DAY 1: MORNING

STRING LAKE LOOP HIKING OR BLACKTAIL BUTTE CLIMBING

Just under 4 miles round trip, the easy String Lake Loop offers outstanding views of the Cathedral Group. Mountain vistas and lake reflections are particularly breathtaking in morning light, so set that alarm. Or, if you need a little adrenaline with your morning coffee, Blacktail Butte offers 27 rock-climbing routes worth ascending.

AFTERNOON/EVENING

SNAKE RIVER RAFTING OR COLTER BAY KAYAKING

About 50 miles of the 1,056-mile-long Snake River are within the park, and every inch of the area is brimming with beauty. Hit Schwabacher's Landing, a launch point for anglers and rafters. Colter Bay Marina is a great place to rent a kayak; tool around for a few hours, then adjourn to Jackson Lake Lodge for dinner.

DAY 2: MORNING

MENORS FERRY HISTORIC DISTRICT OR LAURANCE S. ROCKEFELLER PRESERVE

After your active yesterday, start slow. Your self-guided walking tour through Menors Ferry, a perfectly preserved 1894 ghost town, provides a mellow and informative trip back in time to the Old West. Or beat the crowds with a scenic morning hike in the preserve — a specially designated area of the park with limited traffic.

AFTERNOON/EVENING

JACKSON LAKE DINNER CRUISE OR SUNSET HIKE AT OXBOW BEND

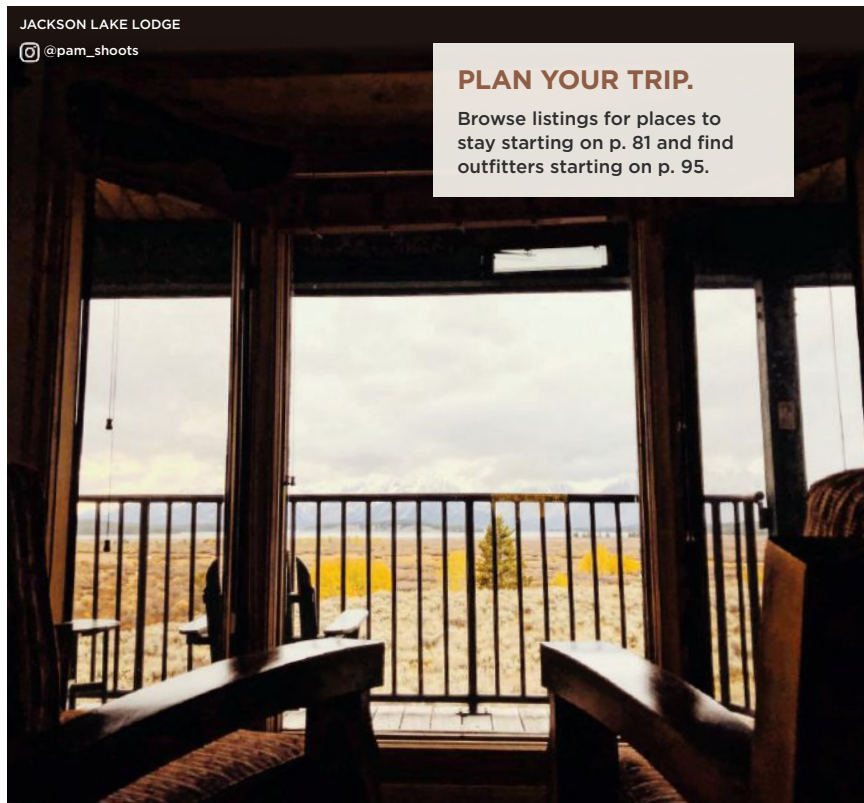

There's no better way to end your trip than with a little reflection. Cruise to Elk Island for al fresco gourmet dining in the shadow of the peaks. Or drive to Oxbow Bend to capture Mount Moran shimmering in the Snake River — then head into Moose for a final bite at Dornan's Chuckwagon.

JACKSON LAKE
@outpostjh

TOP PLACES TO STAY IN GRAND TETON

With seven lodges, six campgrounds and two RV villages within park boundaries, there are no bad choices for accommodations in Grand Teton. Jenny Lake is the most popular campground; its 49 conifer-shaded tent sites require a reservation, so plan accordingly. Jackson Lake Lodge is the place for views from every window, so it's also a top choice. Overnight spots fill up early, so be sure to book ahead of time. To learn more about places to camp — in and near Wyoming's national parks — visit TravelWY.com/campsites.

PLAN YOUR TRIP.

WYOMING TIPS FOR NATIONAL PARKS

GETTING THERE.

Yellowstone Regional Airport (flyyra.com) is about 3 miles outside Cody near Yellowstone National Park's east entrance and offers service from Salt Lake City, Denver and Chicago. Jackson Hole Airport (jacksonholeairport.com) is about 60 miles south of Yellowstone and just 16 miles from Grand Teton National Park. Car rentals and shuttle services to lodges inside the parks, nearby towns and hotels are available from both airports.

ARRIVE EARLY (OR LATE).

Getting an early start maximizes your chances of finding parking, quieter trails and clear waters. During the peak season, there's often daylight until 9 p.m. or later, and many portions of the park clear out substantially by 4 or 5 p.m.

BE RESPONSIBLE FOR YOUR PUP.

Dogs are not permitted on trails, pathways and boardwalks, inside visitor centers or in any park waters or thermal areas. Want a good rule of thumb? A pet may go anywhere a car can go, including roads, campgrounds, picnic areas and parking lots. Always pick up after your pets and keep them on a 6-foot leash in developed areas.

PLAN AHEAD.

With more than 2.2 million acres at Yellowstone and 310,000 acres at Grand Teton, the parks make up a sprawling destination, so you probably won't get to see everything in one trip. Make your must-see list before arriving and plan on a return trip (or two or three). And be sure to book your campsite or lodge well in advance — these fill quickly, especially during peak season. It's $35 per vehicle to visit Yellowstone or Grand Teton for one to seven days. Accessibility information can be found for Grand Teton at TravelWY.com/nps-teton-access and for Yellowstone at TravelWY.com/nps-yell-access.

BE WEATHER AWARE.

Temperatures not only vary by season — they vary by elevation. Dress in layers, stay hydrated and be prepared for anything from warm summer temperatures to snow as late as June.

AVOID THE CROWDS.

Late June through late August is the parks' peak visitation season. Visit during the shoulder season in early June and September for a quieter retreat.

PRACTICE WILDLIFE SAFETY.

Be sure to stay at least 100 yards away from bears and wolves and at least 25 yards away from other animals, like bison. Stay safe from bears when you're out exploring by carrying bear spray, being alert, making noise and traveling in groups of three or more. Roads through the national parks are shared with all the wild creatures, so traffic halts frequently for them and speed limits are low. In fact, most traffic stops here are caused by wildlife crossings. Always stay in your vehicle if you're stuck in a wildlife jam. Never approach, chase or feed the animals. Learn more about bear safety at wgfd.wyo.gov.

PLAN ON DISCONNECTING.

Cell service, Wi-Fi and even television can be hard to come by when you're traveling around Yellowstone and Grand Teton. Be prepared to disconnect for the duration of your visit — and don't be surprised if sending and receiving texts becomes a challenge.

Wyoming's state animal has grazed the geothermal expanses of Yellowstone since prehistoric times. Today, sightings are a regular occurrence throughout Yellowstone National Park, Hot Springs State Park in Thermopolis, Kendrick Elk and Buffalo Park in Sheridan, and Bear River State Park in Evanston.

WESTERN MEADOWLARK

Wyoming's yellow-breasted state bird has a song so distinctive it's likened to a flute. Listen for its chipper calls in Wyoming's open grassland as a signal of spring's arrival. Its nests are snuggled amid vegetation, and it feeds on bugs and seeds, so look down rather than up when scanning for them.

PRONGHORN

Did you know the fastest land mammal in North America lives right here in Wyoming? In fact, the state is home to the largest migratory pronghorn herd in the lower 48. Hundreds of pronghorn travel along a spring migratory route spanning Wyoming's Red Desert to Grand Teton National Park.

ELK

With antlers that can tower up to 4 feet, elk are a majestic sight to behold. Favorite haunts include Medicine Bow National Forest outside Laramie, the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem and western Wyoming's Star Valley. Many elk journey to the National Elk Refuge in Jackson each winter.

So abundant are bighorn sheep that there's a place named after them: Bighorn National Forest near Sheridan. Or head to National Bighorn Sheep Center near Dubois for interactive exhibits and a great wild-sheep herd. Look closely: Despite their huge, 30-pound horns, the sheep can easily blend into the background.

GRIZZLY BEAR

Wyoming's famed grizzly bears are so common you might see them roaming above treeline, along rushing rivers and across shortgrass prairies. Watch for them on Grand Teton and Yellowstone park land, though be sure to give them ample space. See p. 50 for wildlife-safety tips.

MOOSE

These mighty ungulates are a common sight in the town of Jackson and in Grand Teton National Park (where there's even a Moose District), thanks to the area's plentiful willows. As the snow melts in May, moose follow favorite migratory waterways — including Mink Creek — to summer in Yellowstone.

TIPS FOR VIEWING WILDLIFE

If you're observing wildlife, always do so ethically with the safety of you and the wildlife in mind.

- Never feed wildlife.
- Keep a respectful distance — this means 100 yards from bears and 25 yards from other wildlife.
- Stay quiet and still.
- Never chase or harass wildlife.
- Utilize scenic pull-outs and parking areas whenever possible.
- When stopping on roadways, park a safe distance from traffic and turn on your hazard lights.

SUPPORTING COMMUNITY THROUGH GUIDED HUNTING TRIPS

@wyowomen
WYO WILD HORSE RANCH

By C.J. Box

In addition to the wild, scenic countryside that draws people to Wyoming, our state features small- and big-game hunting and vast herds of wildlife. Nearly every species of North American big game exists in large numbers within the state, including elk, moose, deer, pronghorn antelope, bighorn sheep and mountain goat.

It's no surprise that hunting is a way of life for residents and locals alike. This lifestyle helps with the management of Wyoming's incredible wildlife resources. The money hunters and anglers spend through the purchase of licenses and outdoor products goes toward protecting the health of herds and the lands they need to thrive. Plus, nutritious and natural protein from wild game is the ultimate in locally sourced food.

When Wyoming locals and visitors come together through their love of hunting and the outdoors, lasting memories are made. Whether hunting is a family tradition or a new adventure, working with a certified outfitter or guide from the Wyoming Outfitters and Guides Association (WYOGA) increases chances for a successful hunt.

Besides a worthwhile hunting trip, many guides and outfitters offer fishing excursions, horse-pack trips, backcountry wilderness adventures and accommodations. Even nonhunters can work with these local experts to see wildlife and experience Wyoming's breathtaking scenery.

To learn more about hunting in Wyoming and to find local outfitters and guides, visit TravelWY.com/hunting.

Wyoming's wildlife is wild. For the safety and comfort of animals and yourself, always stay at least 100 yards away from bears and wolves and at least 25 yards away from all other animals. If you're trying to take a photo, give wildlife room and use your zoom. If an animal changes its behavior or seems nervous at your presence, it's time to back away. 4 ROAD TRIPS

There's no better way to make the most of Wyoming's sights and activities than to embark on a road trip. Take inspiration from our regional road trips starting on p. 20 and customize your route to include stops that will satisfy every member of your crew, from the hot-springs lover to the aspiring cowboy or cowgirl.

5 HANDS-ON MUSEUMS

Interactive museums encourage little ones and their parents to explore fascinating topics together, and Wyoming has some great ones. Pint-size explorers can see what it's like to forge a river in a covered wagon at the National Historic Trails Interpretive Center in Casper, learn how to think like a scientist at the Lander Children's Museum and tour real dig sites and a fossil-prep lab at the Wyoming Dinosaur Center in Thermopolis.

6 WILDLIFE WATCHING

Observing an animal in its natural habitat is a truly unforgettable experience, and our state's abundance of wide-open spaces and varied landscapes support an impressive list of wildlife-watching opportunities. Turn to p. 59 to learn about some of Wyoming's wild residents and where to see them.

PONDEROSA CAFE

"DANG GOOD DONUTS" AT COWBOY DONUTS IN ROCK SPRINGS.

Sample an array of doughy treats, from fluffy lemon and traditional old-fashioned to bright Fruity Pebble delights and deliciously sticky apple fritters — all baked from scratch that morning. Grab a dozen for the road and balance your breakfast flavors with a jalapeño-and-sausage-stuffed kolache.

WRANGLE UP A WHOOP-WORTHY MEAL AT THE LONE BUFFALO STEAKHOUSE IN DUBOIS.

Make your morning a good one with a piping hot cup of coffee and a loaded-up skillet like the Back Country: ham and sausage smothered in country gravy with two eggs, cheese, cowboy potatoes and toast. You can't go wrong with any dish that comes with spicy-elm or smoked-bison sausage.

POWER UP FOR A DAY OF EXPLORING AT CROOKED CREEK COFFEE ROASTERS IN CASPER.

The folks here will have you rarin' to go with cups of everything from black coffee and sea-salt caramel lattes to Earl Grey and yerba mate. Looking for a superfood-fueled boost? Try the fruit smoothies and all-natural energy drinks.

CURE YOUR PASTRY HANKERINGS AT THE BREAD DOCTOR IN TORRINGTON.

Newly baked artisan breads, pastries and cookies are all on the menu at this family bakery run by a local doctor. Cinnamon bear claws and crumbly palmiers paired with coffee soothe morning hunger pangs, while fresh bread, cookies and savory tarts make perfect road-trip snacks.

RECHARGE WITH HEALTHY FARE AT SWEET MELISSA IN LARAMIE.

After a day of adventure, give your body some good eatin' at this vegetarian cafe with fresh salads, hearty soups and wholesome sandwiches piled high with everything from pickled daikon radish to grilled pineapple. We recommend the deluxe grilled cheese, artichoke burger or enchiladas.

REFUEL WITH WOOD-FIRED PIE AT PIZZA CARRELLO IN GILLETTE.

With options like The Spartan — crafted with garlic-infused olive oil and a healthy dose of spinach plus feta, chicken and whole Mediterranean olives — Pizza Carrello is beloved for its deliciously innovative pies.

PAIR A BOWL OF CHUGWATER CHILI WITH A HANDMADE SODA AT CHUGWATER SODA FOUNTAIN.

Stop by the oldest operating soda fountain in Wyoming for an old-fashioned soda, malt or milkshake — which come in more than 30 flavors like salted caramel and black cherry — and pair it with a bowl of famous Chugwater Chili.

DIG INTO A WYOMING-RAISED BEEF BURGER AT PONDEROSA CAFE IN HULETT.

Step inside an Old West-style saloon for some stick-to-your-ribs fare, from grilled pork chops and meatloaf to bone-in rib-eye steaks and hefty burgers served with crinkle-cut fries.

RECOUNT THE DAY'S ADVENTURES OVER A FINE SUPPER AT FRACKELTON'S IN SHERIDAN.

Specialties like locally sourced pork chops served with buttery mashers, oven-baked tenderloin drizzled in tangy gorgonzola and tart key lime pie make for the perfect finale to a day of sightseeing.

EAT UNDER WIDE-OPEN SKIES AT PITCHFORK FONDUE WESTERN OUTDOOR COOKOUT IN PINEDALE.

Dine in the great outdoors like a true cowboy at this only-in-Wyoming experience offered Thursdays through Saturdays. Bring the whole family and feast on wood-fired meat and veggies paired with homemade fondue sauces as you take in panoramic views of the Wind River Mountains.

FILL UP ON A WESTERN-STYLE BUFFET AT BUFFALO BILL'S IRMA HOTEL IN CODY.

Built by the legendary Buffalo Bill in 1902, the historical Irma Hotel is a time portal into the Old West. Stop by the on-site restaurant for its famous summertime buffet, with favorites like slow-roasted prime rib, oysters Rockefeller, pasta and baked cod.

SAVOR LOCAL INGREDIENTS AT FARM-TO-TABLE HOTSPOT LOCAL RESTAURANT & BAR IN JACKSON.

Wyoming-raised beef and in-season produce are the focus at this American steakhouse in Jackson's historical town square, where you can enjoy anything from blackened trout — served with cheddar grits, naturally — to hand-cut bison tartare.

MAY

JACKSON HOLE RODEO

The Teton Range and Gros Ventre Wilderness make for a dramatic backdrop to this annual bash that's among the earliest and longest running of the state's rodeo season (most Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, from May through September).

JUNE

CODY NITE RODEO

The longest-running nightly rodeo in the country is the family-oriented Cody Nite Rodeo series, held from June through August in the enclave known as the "Rodeo Capital of the World."

FRIDAY NIGHT RODEOS IN DUBOIS

The upper Wind River Valley town of Dubois is home to dude ranches, square dances and the summer Friday Night Rodeo series. Rodeos run from mid-June through mid-August.

EVANSTON RODEO SERIES

See champion cowboys and cowgirls show off their best skills at this action-packed rodeo series in June and July. A wide range of events to watch includes barrel racing, team roping and junior steer riding.

JULY

CHEYENNE FRONTIER DAYS

Established in 1897, Cheyenne Frontier Days has evolved into the largest outdoor rodeo and Western celebration in the world. The "Daddy of 'Em All" delivers 10 days of wild Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association competitions, big-name concerts, tasty treats and more.

CODY STAMPEDE RODEO

Spend your Fourth of July weekend watching top contestants compete for big purses over four days in Cody. Parades, a craft fair and food booths offering delicious fare are all part of the celebration that's been serving Wild West fun since 1919.

RED DESERT ROUNDUP RODEO

Held the last full weekend of July, this fun-for-all rodeo delights with nightly calf scrambles and mutton bustin' for kids, a golf tournament, 5K run and parade through historical downtown Rock Springs.

CENTRAL WYOMING FAIR & RODEO

Have a mutton-bustin' good time when the Central Wyoming Fair & Rodeo comes to Casper with carnival rides, a demolition derby and a "The Voice"-inspired concert where singers strive to be "The Voice of Casper."

LIFE ON THE RANGE

5 REASONS TO STAY AT A WYOMING DUDE & GUEST RANCH

Not only do Wyoming's many ranches let visitors play cowboy for a week, but they also offer activities and amenities to suit every traveler — not to mention postcard-caliber scenery around every bend.

PARADISE GUEST RANCH
@paradiseranchwy

1 YOU CAN EXPERIENCE REAL COWBOY LIFE.

If you've always been fascinated by Western lore and cowboy culture, then visiting a dude or guest ranch will let you roll up your sleeves and join the adventure — from participating in real cattle drives to pitching in at the stables to long, peaceful rides through scenic valleys. Wyoming happens to be home to the first-ever dude ranch: Eatons' Ranch in Wolf. The ranch first flung open its barn doors in 1904. It doesn't get much more authentic than that.

2 THERE ARE OPTIONS TO SUIT EVERY VACATION STYLE.

You won't find any one-size-fits-all experiences here. No matter your budget, interests or group size, there's a ranch for you. Traveling with kids? Vee Bar Guest Ranch in Laramie is one of many ranches that offers fun and educational programs for kids as young as 6. Seeking a grown-up getaway? Certain ranches host adults-only weeks or offer romantic perks like massages, hot-air balloon rides and all the privacy you need.

3 HORSEBACK RIDING IS ONLY THE BEGINNING.

A love of horses is pretty much a prerequisite for a dude-ranch stay, but it's far from the only activity available. Venture beyond the stable at Crossed Sabres Ranch in Cody to enjoy world-class fly-fishing streams, river rafting, hiking and biking — plus plenty of stargazing and leisure time around the campfire.

4 THEY CAN BE A SECRET FOODIE PARADISE.

A dude-ranch vacation is all about working up an appetite; but if you think it's just pork and beans out here, you haven't visited our foodie-friendly ranches. At Paradise Guest Ranch in Buffalo, feast on gourmet meals enhanced with locally sourced ingredients and a stellar wine program — mixed with a hearty helping of barbecue cookouts, buffet lunches and s'mores, of course.

5 THEY'RE PERFECT FOR RECONNECTING WITH FAMILY.

For one glorious family trip, you can all step away from your devices and really recharge. R Lazy S Ranch in Teton Village trades TVs and social feeds for good, old-fashioned fun, like evening talent shows and capture-the-flag tournaments. While most ranches do offer Wi-Fi these days, quality time with the fam is all the connectivity you'll need.

LOCALS' FAVORITE PLACES TO SKI & RIDE

Pristine powder and a wide range of terrain make these ski areas and resorts a worthy winter getaway.

= AVERAGE ANNUAL SNOW TOTAL

= ADAPTIVE SPORTS OFFERED

JACKSON HOLE MOUNTAIN RESORT

 459 INCHES

With more than 4,000 feet of vertical terrain, one of the highest snowfall totals in the country and unprecedented access to out-of-bounds fun, Jackson Hole has it all — plus the powdery Teton Range's famed beauty. This is a bucketlist-worthy ski destination that snow-chasers rightfully wax on about.

GRAND TARGHEE RESORT

 500+ INCHES

Just 42 miles from Jackson, Grand Targhee offers 2,602 skiable acres and five lifts near the town of Alta. Other activities at the resort include a nature center, snowcat skiing, Nordic skiing, fat biking and tubing.

WHITE PINE SKI AREA

 150 INCHES

Wyoming's oldest ski area has satisfied avid powderhounds with 350 acres of terrain near Pinedale since 1940. Snowshoe on the resort's Nordic trails for uninterrupted views of the Continental Divide and Wind River Range.

PINE CREEK SKI RESORT

 150 INCHES

Thirty diverse runs, more than 1,400 vertical feet and short lift lines make Pine Creek a local favorite near Cokeville. Don't miss the End of Season Party, when costumed daredevils skim across an icy pond.

SNOWY RANGE SKI AREA

 245 INCHES

Located west of Laramie, Snowy Range has 250 skiable acres and two terrain parks. Snow bunnies can master the fundamentals in the resort's small-group classes, which are great for kids and adults.

HOGADON BASIN SKI AREA

 140 INCHES

Situated atop Casper Mountain outside of Casper, Hogadon has 60 acres of groomed slopes and 15 miles of Nordic trails. Beginners should consider the all-inclusive learning package at the snow-sports school, which includes rentals, a lesson and lift ticket.

SNOW KING MOUNTAIN RESORT

 300 INCHES

Established in 1939, Snow King is Jackson's first resort and is known affectionately as "The Locals' Mountain." The resort has 32 trails within 400 acres, two terrain parks, a tubing hill, a Cowboy Coaster and opportunities for uphill skiing and alpine racing.

MEADOWLARK SKI LODGE

 50 INCHES

Tucked in the Bighorn Mountains near Ten Sleep, Meadowlark Ski Lodge's 300 skiable acres and 14 runs are accessible via two chairlifts. The ski hill is open on weekends and offers affordable rentals and lift tickets.

SLEEPING GIANT SKI AREA

 310 INCHES

This ski hill with 184 acres of terrain and a 6,619-foot vertical drop is 3 miles from Yellowstone's East Entrance near Cody. Offerings include lessons for all ages and the Ski and Shred Like a Girl Program, when ladies of all skill levels learn from guest girl guides.

MODERN EXPLORER

EXPERIENCE THE MAGIC OF WINTER IN YELLOWSTONE.

The nation's first national park becomes a fascinating landscape of fire and ice during the winter months. Hiking past steaming hot springs against the backdrop of pristine snow-covered forests of pine and Douglas fir is an otherworldly sight, and snowmobiling and cross-country skiing are activities that have drawn visitors to Yellowstone in the snowy months for decades.

MAMMOTH HOT SPRINGS

GETTING TO YELLOWSTONE

Many visitors reach Yellowstone National Park by air via the two small Wyoming regional airports that service the park. Yellowstone Regional Airport near Cody is approximately 50 miles from Yellowstone's east entrance; and Jackson Hole Airport, located at the edge of Grand Teton National Park, is approximately 50 miles south of Yellowstone's south entrance. Both airports have car and shuttle services to nearby towns and hotels. From early November to mid-April, most of the park's roads are only open to oversnow travel — or guided snowmobile and snowcoach tours. Find a list of companies authorized to provide snow-safari tours and oversnow transportation to Yellowstone's attractions from towns near the west, south and east entrances at nps.gov/yell.

THINGS TO DO

Explore the backcountry and trek past the national park's famous thermal features in silence by snowshoeing or Nordic skiing on groomed trails specially prepped for wintertime visitors. Gear is available for rent from local outfitters; and if you'd prefer not to go it alone, there are authorized guides who can show you the sights as well. Get out early in the morning when animals like deer, wolves and bison are most active and the light is prime for taking photos. Arrange for snowcoach tours to the Norris and Upper geyser basins, Old Faithful and Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone. The National Park Service typically also hosts ranger-led excursions and activities from mid-December through mid-March.

Those seeking a faster ride can check out Yellowstone's portion of the Continental Divide Snowmobile Trail with an authorized commercial guide from Cody (go to nps.gov/yell to see a full list of guides). You can also apply for Non-Commercially Guided Snowmobile Access Program Permits, which are awarded annually through a lottery system at recreation.gov. A limited number of snowmobilers are allowed access to the trails each day, and advance reservations are recommended.

REST EASY

Old Faithful Snow Lodge & Cabins, which has dining facilities and visitor services year-round, and newly renovated Mammoth Hot Springs Hotel & Cabins are the only lodging options available inside the park itself. Visitors can also stay in Jackson, Cody or other nearby towns and book excursions into the park with authorized NPS concessionaires like Jackson-based Teton Science Schools or Scenic Safaris and Cody-based Gary Fales Outfitting. Browse our lodging listings starting on p. 81 or visit TravelWY.com/lodging.

WINTER, WYOMING-STYLE

Whether you dream of carving first tracks through a silent wilderness, cutting up the snow on a high-powered sled or soaking your days away at a hot spring, here's how you can get outside and play once the flakes start falling.

GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK

TOGWOTEE MOUNTAIN LODGE

ICE FISHING

Wyoming's frozen waters reveal hardy stashes of fish — plus an endless supply of solitude. Boysen Reservoir stocks everything from walleye to burbot, Flaming Gorge teems with lake trout and Keyhole Reservoir is swimming with perch, crappie and northern pike just below the ice.

SKIJORING

Winter magic comes in all forms in Wyoming, but there's something particularly special about roping up with a horse (or even your pup) in a sport that mixes adrenaline, speed and cross-country skiing. Find a skijoring event and skim across the snow in towns like Sheridan, Sundance, Pinedale, Jackson Hole and Saratoga.

BE WILD IN WINTER.

Skijoring is a sight to behold and a whole lot of fun! Learn all about Wyoming's unofficial state sport at TravelWY.com/skijoring.

DOG SLEDDING

Not only is dog sledding a perfect way to give your legs a break from skiing and other winter sports, it's a thrilling way to see some of Wyoming's prettiest backcountry. Snuggle up as a team of lovable huskies mush through Jackson and Dubois, both home to multiple tour providers.

SNOWSHOEING & CROSS-COUNTRY SKIING

On a pair of skis or snowshoes, you may never shake the feeling that you've stepped inside a snowglobe. Exploring scenic trails at national forests around the state — like Sinks Canyon State Park and Beaver Creek Nordic Ski Area (Lander), Tie City and Happy Jack (Laramie), and Bear River State Park (Evanston), where you may share the trail with a resident elk or bison — are great places to start.

HOT SPRINGS

Wyoming's bubbling geothermal springs are like nature's hot tubs. Have a dip and a sip at Saratoga Hot Springs Resort, home to the state's second-oldest craft brewery. Hot Springs State Park in Thermopolis features prehistoric rock formations, and dreamy Granite Hot Springs is perched above a waterfall in a peaceful forest near Jackson.

FAT BIKING

With their monster tires and grippy tread, fat bikes put Wyoming's snowy terrain within easy reach. The rugged trails of Dubois and abundant switchbacks and loops of Lander are fat-bike favorites, and you can crunch through hundreds of groomed trails from Jackson Hole to Laramie.

SNOWMOBILING

Blankets of powder, breathtaking vistas and thousands of miles of trails make Wyoming a top-ranked spot for snowmobiling. Options abound in Pinedale and Dubois, where you can access the legendary Continental Divide Snowmobile Trail to see the Wind River and Absaroka mountains. Towns like Saratoga, Centennial, Riverside, Encampment and Laramie link you to the vast Snowy Range, and dramatic scenery awaits in the Bighorn Mountains near Sheridan.
