NATURE DID SMILE ON US A LITTLE BIT MORE

Grand Junction is a Nexus

There is no other place in Colorado where you experience the intersection of so many prized ecosystems.
Mountains. Rivers. Canyons. Lakes. High Desert. Forests.
For people who define themselves by the amount of time they spend outdoors, this is their mecca.

COLORADO NATIONAL MONUMENT

Come discover our riches for yourself — you might be surprised what you'll find.

Insider Tips

Powderhorn Mountain Resort offers a lift-assisted mountain bike park, and when winter arrives, expect 250 inches of annual fresh powder.

Grand Junction has an abundance of cycling shops ready to help you with rentals, repairs and local info on all of the best scenic terrain, including eBike rentals for your wine and orchard tours, cruiser-style.

The Little Book Cliffs are home to one of the few remaining wild mustang herds in the United States. Explore the area by SUV, horseback, foot or bike.

Mountain-Town Character

Grand Junction is a laid-back, friendly city, serving up an authentic downtown mountain vibe where locals kick back with visitors, recounting their adventures and sharing epic firsts while sipping a fresh pint over a spectacular sunset. Vibrant streets boast over 115 award-winning sculptures and murals, perfect for strolling around while exploring boutique shops and enjoying local bites.

Adrenaline Fix

From desert slickrock to ribbons of smooth pavement, the Grand Junction area is a cyclist's dream. Iconic dirt trails include Chutes and Ladders and Zippity Do Da, while the famous paved Rim Rock Drive on the Colorado National Monument offers up endless miles of pristine road cycling. The Grand Mesa is filled with rewarding terrain for both mountain and road cyclists. If water is more your element, paddling and rafting abound on the Colorado and Gunnison Rivers. Or drop a canoe, SUP or kayak into one of the Grand Mesa's 300 lakes. OHV you ask? YES!

Hike, Golf & Bike Year-Round

The temperate climate of the Grand Junction area supports a comfortable year-round climate with an average of 245 days of annual sunshine — making it possible to partake in many of Colorado's famous outdoor pursuits throughout the year. In winter, venture up to a higher altitude to schuss down the slopes at Powderhorn Mountain Resort and take in snow-dusted scenes via cross-country skis or snowshoes, or snowmobile on the Grand Mesa. Or stay at a lower elevation to tee off or hit the trails with your regular ol' hiking boots and experience the beauty of the expansive public lands that surround the city. Learn more about Grand Junction's four seasons of outdoor pursuits on page 28 and read about our more than 1.5 million acres of public lands on page 25.

Immerse Yourself in the Arts

Grand Junction's arts scene is thriving, thanks to a growing community of fervent artisans plus the addition of the Downtown Grand Junction Creative District (one of Colorado's 30). Shop the boutiques and trendy galleries in the Creative District or catch a film, theatrical performance or concert at the Historic Avalon Theatre. Robinson Theatre at Colorado Mesa University also has a variety of entertainment. Discover more artsy activities starting on page 16.

Sportsman's Paradise

The tree-studded skylines that form much of Grand Junction's horizon hold more than Colorado's scenic beauty. Thousands of deer, elk, moose, desert bighorn and other game live in those mountains, positioning Grand Junction as the region's base for hunters pursuing their quarry each year. Add to that the hundreds of fishing lakes on the Grand Mesa along with the Colorado and Gunnison Rivers — you'll find there's no shortage of angling opportunities.

Peaches and grapes aren't the only things that thrive in this climate. Grand Junction is blessed with mild seasonal temperatures year-round, making it the ideal destination for outdoor-adventure enthusiasts.

COLORADO'S WINE COUNTRY  @GARVEYSGARDENS

Explore Colorado's Wine Country & Booming Craft-Beverage Scene

The Grand Junction area is home to the famous Palisade Peach and is the heart of Colorado Wine Country. The Grand Valley American Viticultural Area (AVA) includes 31 wineries and tasting rooms, and is one of only two designated AVAs in Colorado. But there's more to the craft-beverage scene than award-winning wine. The area also has a bounty of breweries and distilleries, such as the long-loved Rockside Brewery and family-owned Highlands Craft Distillery, where vodka and gin are created in-house from grain grown as close to Grand Junction as possible. Check out itineraries starting on page 16 and browse winery and tasting room listings on page 46.

Accessible Desert

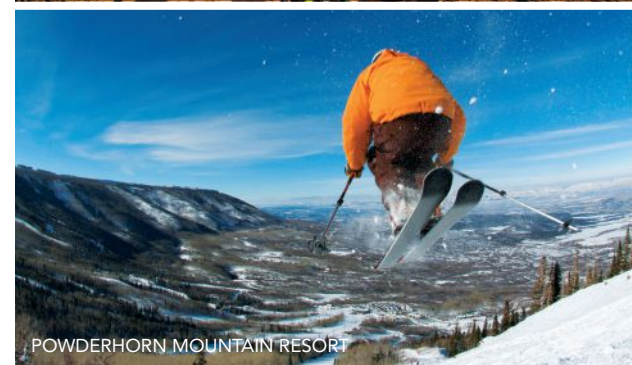

There's no reason to spend extra hours in the car to join the masses in Utah. Our trail systems are one of our best-kept secrets. Whether you're looking to ride bikes, gas up your OHV, explore on horseback, discover over 35 arches, or simply don hiking boots, our nearby public lands serve up endless scenic places to explore.

Calling all Treasure Seekers

If geocaching is your jam, there are 863 geocaches hidden all over Grand Junction. Geocaching involves using GPS devices or smartphones to locate strategically hidden containers with little prizes and logs. Find out how and where to play at Geocaching.com.

HAPPY TRAILS

Trails of every kind weave through Grand Junction and its vast public lands, creating a giant pretzel of interconnected loops where one wild experience and spectacular view always leads to another. Pick your perfect trail with our handy guide, whether you prefer hiking, biking or horseback riding.

RATTLESNAKE CANYON - CENTENNIAL ARCH  @_ASHLEYPERRY

ESCALANTE CANYON PETROGLYPHS

Follow the Locals

"From a paleo perspective, the neatest thing to do is to hike the Trail Through Time, which is located right off of Interstate 70 at Mile Marker 2. This 1-mile loop trail allows visitors to see actual dinosaur bones still in place. In the summer, you can also catch volunteers from the Museum of Western Colorado excavating fossil finds at the nearby Mygatt-Moore Quarry."

— Greg Gnesios, first manager of McInnis Canyons National Conservation Area

IF YOU'RE SEEKING ... OUT-OF-THIS-WORLD VIEWS ON FOOT

Escalante Canyon Petroglyphs, Dominguez- Escalante National Conservation Area

In less than 1 mile, you'll walk back in time — 600 million years, that is. This rugged canyon contains important geological, cultural and historical relics such as Native American petroglyphs, some depicting the bighorn sheep that frequent the area.

Lost Lake Trail on the Grand Mesa

There are over 300 lakes on the Grand Mesa, but few match the dream-like beauty of Lost Lake — a ribbon of clear, glacial water surrounded by basalt boulders, accessed via a pleasant, 2-mile out-and-back hike.

Rattlesnake Arches Trail at McInnis Canyons National Conservation Area

You don't need to leave Colorado to see natural red-rock arches, as Rattlesnake Arches Trail provides the second-largest concentration of arches in the world. This 15-mile round-trip hike will get your heart pumping. It's mostly unshaded, so come prepared with plenty of water and sun protection.

MCINNIS CANYONS

TABEGUACHE TRAIL RANDY STOUJER

IF YOU'RE SEEKING ... DOWNHILL THRILLS

Tabeguache Trail

You could bike all the way from Grand Junction to Montrose on the 142-mile Tabeguache Trail, but some of the best technical mountain biking in Colorado can be found right by the trailhead — namely, the famed Lunch Loops trail system.

Kokopelli Trail at McInnis Canyons National Conservation Area

The many scenic and challenging loops at Kokopelli Trail draw riders from around the state, especially Mack Ridge — a ride along a rocky ridgeline high above the Colorado River.

Powderhorn Mountain Resort Bike Park

As ski season closes, the spring snowmelt reveals multiple professionally crafted downhill trails that dip, wind and flow with Powderhorn Mountain's natural terrain. A lift drops you at the top, then it's up to you to navigate the tree roots, rocky obstacles and 1,650 feet of exhilarating elevation drop.

Three Sisters Park

Adjacent to the Tabeguache/ Lunch Loops trails and minutes from Downtown Grand Junction, this latest addition to the mountain-biking scene offers multi-use trails with terrain gentle enough for beginners and families.

Palisade Plunge

Downhill fans, rejoice! The U.S. Forest Service recently opened this epic, 32-mile single-track trail that descends 6,000 feet from the top of the Grand Mesa all the way to the high-desert floor. Read more about this thrilling new trail on page 30.

POWDERHORN MOUNTAIN RESORT BIKE PARK

IF YOU'RE SEEKING ... RIDES FOR YOUR EQUINE COMPANION

Little Book Cliffs Wild Horse Range

Just 8 miles from Grand Junction, you can clip-clop through the rocky, rugged terrain of this Bureau of Land Management's 36,000-acre area, and spot majestic wild mustangs — descendants of those brought here by Spanish settlers and one of only a few wild horse sanctuaries left in the country.

McInnis Canyons National Conservation Area

You'll feel just like a cowboy or cowgirl on Devil's Canyon trail, which moseys through red-rock canyons, hoodoos and pink-striped entrada sandstone cliffs.

Horseback Tours

Rimrock Adventures offers guided rides through Colorado's canyonlands, while Palisade Ranch provides trail rides and customized tours on more than 500 acres.

Did You Know?

Over 100 wild horses roam freely at Little Book Cliffs Wild Horse Area. Other creatures to keep your eyes peeled for in the vicinity include golden and bald eagles, red-tail hawks, mule deer, elk and bighorn sheep.

THE GRAND MESA

IF YOU'RE SEEKING ... OFF-ROAD ACTION

Grand Junction OHV Area

Kick up some dust at this sprawling desert wilderness just north of town, featuring single- and double-track trails, thrilling hill climbs and ridge rides that will take your breath away.

Bangs Canyon Management Area

Stunning plateaus and high-desert canyons make way for wide-open views of Grand Junction and the Grand Mesa at this OHV haven, which is home to numerous ATV trails, thrilling dirtbike single-track and the Billings Canyon 4x4 trail.

Grand Mesa & Uncompahgre National Forests

Explore more than 50 designated OHV trails in a range of high-mountain landscapes, from glorious aspen stands to barren slopes that feel like you are on top of the world.

Check out page 30 for more OHV dirt.

THE TOUR DE VINEYARDS

IF YOU'RE SEEKING ... SCENIC CRUISES FOR ROAD BIKING

Rim Rock Drive in Colorado National Monument

You'll see every spire, turret and sweeping red-rock canyon of Colorado National Monument on this iconic ride, spanning 23 miles from end to end. Learn more about the Monument on page 10.

Colorado Riverfront Trail System

A breezy way to explore the area, Grand Junction is the hub of this 24.5-mile paved river trail system where you'll pass by parks, lakes, wildlife areas, botanical gardens and even a handy bike-repair station.

Fruit & Wine Byway

Pedal your way or get some assistance with an eBike from Rapid Creek Cycles through Palisade's famous vineyards, fruit orchards and lavender fields on one of the prettiest road-biking corridors in the country, with three routes ranging from 5 to 25 miles.

Fall-Foliage Hotspots

Color your world with these fall-friendly activities.

1 HIKE GRAND MESA

The aspens are so vivid on the world's largest flat-top mountain that Powderhorn Mountain Resort even hosts a Color Weekend.

2 CELEBRATE ART IN DOWNTOWN GRAND JUNCTION

Peruse Main Street to see artists' interpretation of the area, and take a little of Grand Junction home with you at the Downtown Art Festival.

3 CRUISE RIM ROCK DRIVE

In Colorado National Monument, you'll discover more shades of red and gold than you knew existed.

4 BIKE THE TOUR DE VINEYARDS

Soak up fall color and an occasional glass of Colorado vintage. Conveniently, Colorado Mountain Winefest is held the same weekend.

COLORADO NATIONAL MONUMENT: 6 DAZZLING PERSPECTIVES

Located just 6 miles from Downtown Grand Junction, the rugged, red-rock landscapes of Colorado National Monument have captivated artists, photographers and sightseers for centuries — and for good reason. Around every hairpin turn and stone tunnel of this 20,500-acre park, you'll discover wild, Western views that are sure to inspire you, too.

1 RIM ROCK DRIVE

Snaking around canyon rims and sheer cliffs, this 23-mile byway is the very definition of a scenic drive. It's also the quintessential way to explore Colorado National Monument from end to end, whether by car, bike or motorcycle. Consider it hiking in your car!

An engineering feat, Rim Rock Drive was hand-carved by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930s, revealing rock layers that date back an astonishing two billion years. You can easily spend days exploring the numerous trails and vistas, from Red Canyon Overlook to Artists Point — a spot favored by plein air painters throughout the years. Keep your eyes peeled for bighorn sheep and golden eagles, two of the species lucky enough to call this place home.

2 COKE OVENS TRAIL

Less than a mile from Artists Point, pull off at the Coke Ovens Overlook to access one of the grandest views in Colorado National Monument (or anywhere, for that matter). A short, scenic walk leads to a viewpoint of the eponymous Coke Ovens — bulbous, buff-colored pinnacles that cut a striking figure against the terracotta-colored canyon. From here, you can take a longer hike on Monument Canyon Trail to get a closer look at the massive red-earth formations.

3 STARGAZING

When the sun sets, a dazzling display of planets, nebulae and constellations light up the sky above, giving the otherworldly terrain an even more lunar-like appearance. While starry skies can be admired from just about anywhere in the park, the Western Colorado Astronomy Club meets regularly at the Saddlehorn Visitor Center. Most events are free and open to the public, and there are usually plenty of telescopes to give you an up-close view. Check WCACAstronomy.org for events during your visit.

Find more ways to explore Colorado National Monument at VisitGrandJunction.com/Exploring-Colorado-National-Monument and NPS.gov/COLM.

Snap It

Professional photographers and Instagrammers alike will find much to feast their eyes on at the Monument. If you're committed to capturing that perfect photo during your visit, the best times of day are typically sunrise and sunset, when the sun's rays cast a bewitching light over the flame-red canyons.

RANGER-GUIDED TOURS

6 RANGER-GUIDED TOURS

Get a deeper view of the park, its history and geologic features on a ranger-led tour, departing from the Saddlehorn Visitor Center daily, Memorial Day through Labor Day. Programs range from interpretive hikes to Junior Ranger programs. Be sure to check the park's online calendar before your visit or stop by the Visitor Center to see what's on the schedule.

4 ROCK CLIMBING AT INDEPENDENCE MONUMENT

John Otto, who became the park's first ranger after its National Monument designation in 1911, was one of the earliest people to climb Independence Monument — a sandstone spire that soars 450 feet out of the canyon floor. Today, you can join the scores of climbers who flock here to see the incredible views from "Otto's Route" and other climbing routes, which range in difficulty from intermediate to advanced.

For the best experience, take a guided climb with Grand Junction Adventures, which is a park-approved outfitter. They know every pitch and pit on Independence Monument and can provide the proper gear and guidance to get you to the top safely and with a smile on your face.

SAFETY NOTE: The soft, easily flaked sandstone and vertical sections of Independence Monument present dangers for even experienced climbers. Always use extreme caution and check out the park's climbing rules and regulations at NPS.gov/COLM before your visit.

5 SADDLEHORN CAMPGROUND

Perched high above Monument Canyon with sweeping vistas of Grand Junction, Saddlehorn Campground offers views you can normally only dream about. But here, they're the last thing you see before hitting the sack. A-Loop campsites are open year-round, and are available on a first-come, first-served basis, while the B-Loop is open mid-March through October and can be reserved up to six months in advance. It's time you camp on top of stunning red-rock and stargaze, don't you think?

Colorado National Monument Visitor Center

Located 4 miles from the west entrance, Colorado National Monument Visitor Center is a must-stop before exploring Colorado National Monument. Here you'll find maps, brochures, souvenirs, educational exhibits, and a knowledgeable staff that can point you to all the best trails and viewpoints.

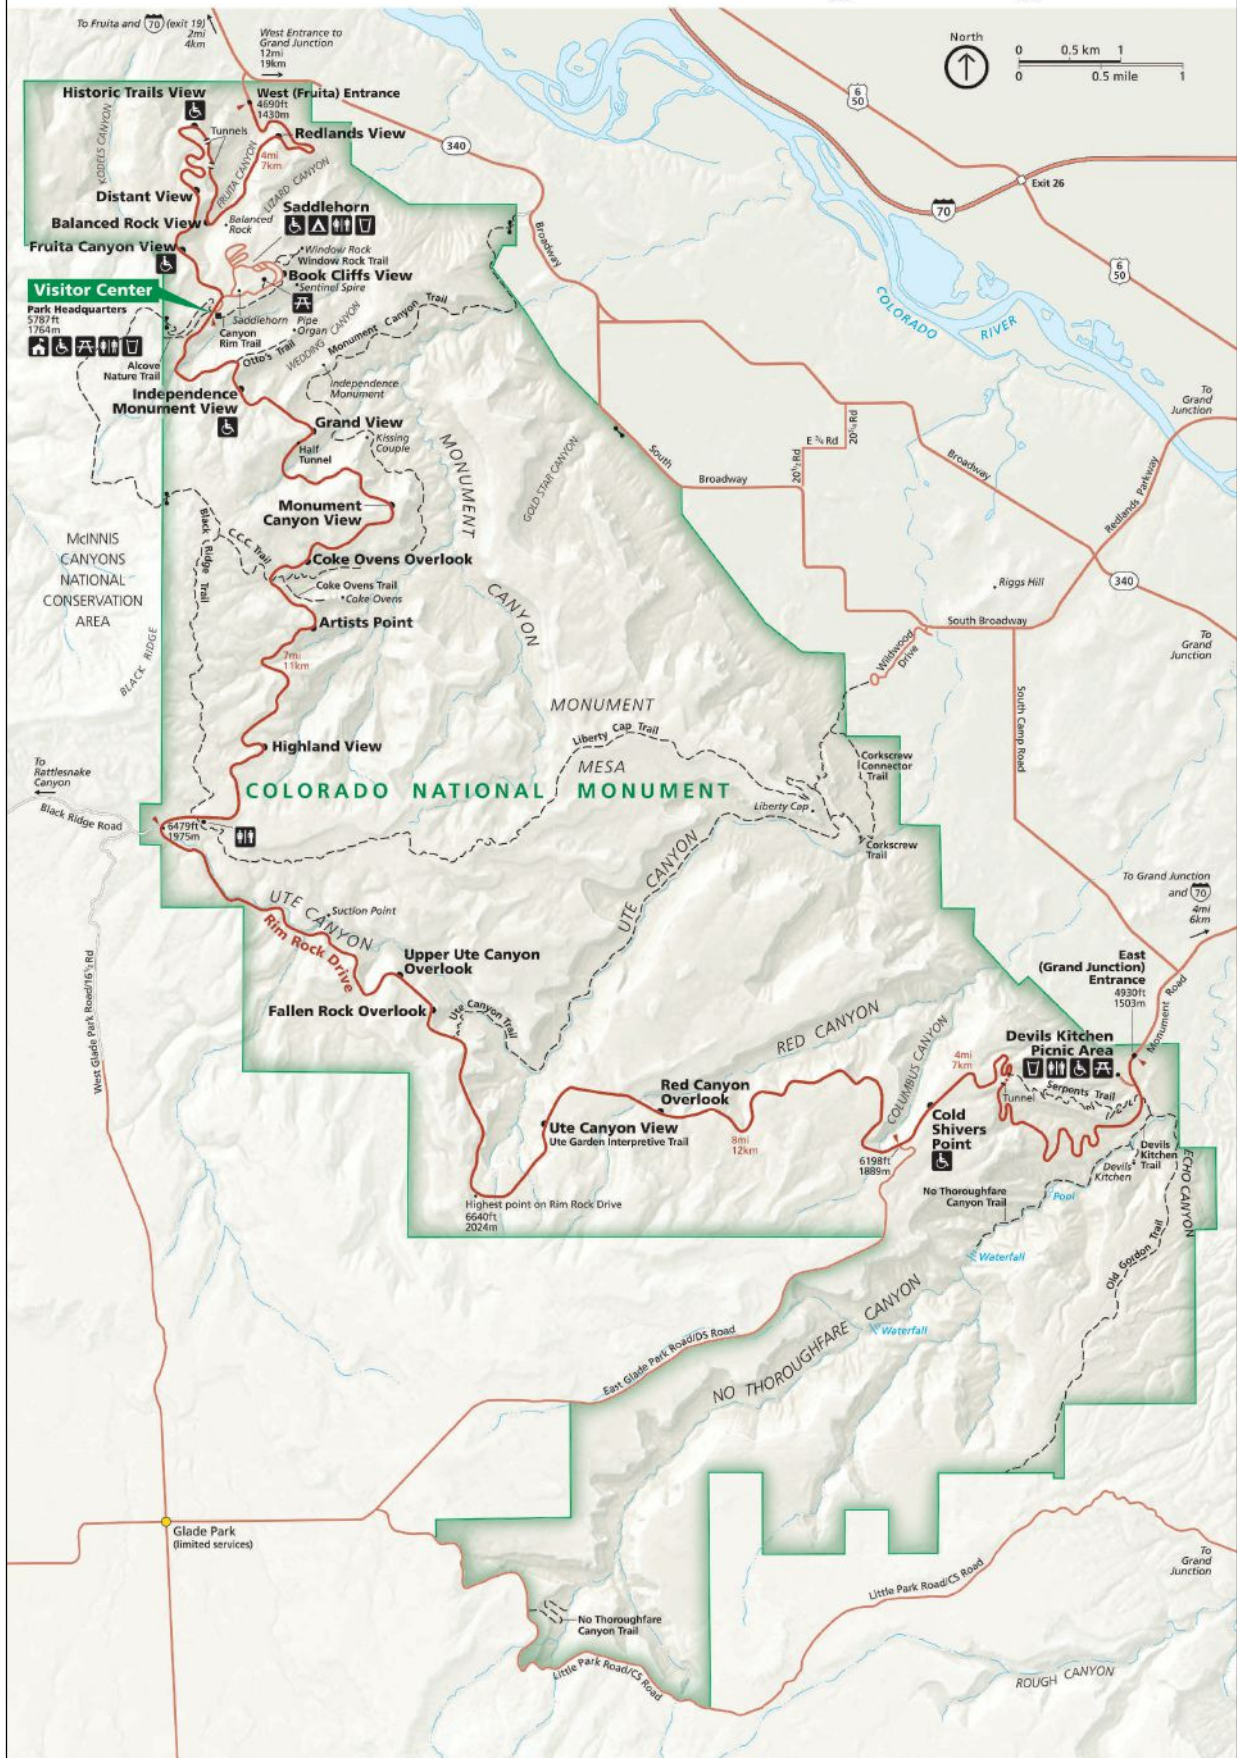

Hours: Open daily, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with extended summer hours (8 a.m. to 6 p.m.). Closed Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day.

Some land outside the park boundary is privately owned. Please respect the owners' rights and do not trespass.

Float, Raft & Splash: GRAND JUNCTION'S WATERS

Grand Junction's hundreds of lakes and miles of rivers are perfect for a bounty of aquatic pursuits. In fact, the area is a watersports haven for whitewater rafting, stand-up paddleboarding, floating, fishing and much more.

COLORADO RIVER JET BOATING

For the thrill of your life, book a New Zealand-style jet boat tour on the Colorado River with Jet Boat Colorado. You'll fishtail, speed run and power slide your way to a pure adrenaline rush while a knowledgeable guide takes your family on a tour of the waterway on their custom jet boat Wild Mustang. Experience the famous wet-and-wild "Cowboy Spin," but if you're not up for getting drenched, opt for a scenic tour and enjoy a milder (and drier) ride. Book early — summer tours get snatched up fast!

Find more splash-worthy adventures at VisitGrandJunction.com/WaterActivities

GRAND MESA NATIONAL FOREST

The Grand Mesa is the largest flattop mountain in the world, boasting more than 300 lakes and 3,600 miles of tributaries overflowing with fantastic trout fishing and water sports. Try Bull Creek Reservoirs (#1 and #2), which offer opportunities to catch rainbow, cutthroat and brown trout. If you enjoy motoring across smooth-as-glass water, check out Sunset, Griffith or Glacier lakes. But if you want to explore in a canoe or kayak, visit Forty Acre Lake, Kitson Reservoir or Rimrock Lake, where the paddling is pristine since motorized boats are prohibited.

JAMES M. ROBB COLORADO RIVER STATE PARK

This 35-mile park stretches like a strand of pearls, with each section specifically designed to cater to distinct interests. Stop first at Island Acres, best if you're traveling west on I-70. Take a swim in the lake amid the area's distinct landscape of ribbed plateaus. This area is also home to Colorado's Wine Country, and Palisade River Trips, offering relaxing ways to soak in views of the growing region. If you're looking for a river launch, the best location is Connected Lakes. It's an idyllic spot for boats and rafts and offers a pier for those looking to do a little warm-water fishing.

HIGHLINE LAKE STATE PARK & MACK MESA LAKE

Located a half hour away from Downtown Grand Junction, Highline Lake State Park's two lakes have plenty of room for you to enjoy the thrill of racing past fellow jet skiers or notch it down for a relaxing kayak excursion. Head to Mack Mesa Lake for paddleboarding and cold- and warm-water fishing. If you're looking for an SUP tour, check out Grand Junction Stand Up Paddle Boarding Co.'s lessons, rentals and SUP yoga.

RUBY-HORSETHIEF CANYON

If getting off the beaten path is more your drink of water, visit the 25-mile stretch of the Colorado River that runs from Loma, Colorado, to Westwater, Utah. The Ruby-Horsethief section of the river is calm with occasional mild rapids encased in magnificent red-rock canyons. Bring your camera to photograph bighorn sheep, bald eagles and the canyons that envelop you as you float down the river. Want to leave the gear and planning to someone else? Did You Know?

Since it's rare for so many lakes and reservoirs to be found so close together at such a high elevation, the Grand Mesa is a true treasure. And the national forest's 10,000-foot altitude means cooler temps in the summer, making the 300 lakes a stellar retreat from the heat.

GRAND JUNCTION INSIDE & OUT

Named for its enviable location at the confluence of the Colorado and Gunnison rivers, Grand Junction is a special kind of crossroads — a joining of ancient and modern, of rustic and refined, of nature and culture. Whether you are inside or out, Grand Junction provides experiences you will not find anywhere else in the world.

INSIDE

Creative Chops

The Downtown Grand Junction Creative District has a plethora of artistic treasures, including murals, art galleries, hundreds of outdoor sculptures, and public pianos. Start your exploration with a First Friday Art Walk jumping off from the area's flagship gallery, the Western Colorado Center for the Arts — friendly staffers will give you the lowdown on other participating shops and collectives, like the Working Artists Gallery & Studio.

Peak Performance

Grand Junction is also a great place to embrace the performing arts. The historic Avalon Theatre has welcomed pop artists through the decades, from Al Jolson to Bela Fleck, and is host to the Grand Junction Symphony Orchestra and High Desert Opera — both offer outstanding productions.

Tune Up

If you're more the standing-room-only music type, hit up the Mesa Theater for local and national acts ranging from Stryper to Leftover Salmon. Warehouse 25 Sixty-Five Kitchen & Bar is music to your senses; treat your taste buds to the Loaded Haystacks (cheese-and-bacon-stuffed hash-brown balls) and listen to

Make Scents

Create your own candles using more than 120 different scents at Candle Kitchen GJ, or pop into Funky Junk DIY Studio during their Open Studio time to make your own custom home decor. All guidance and materials are provided.

country-flavored acts like Jordan Davis and the hometown regular Gary Russell Band.

History Lesson

For a comprehensive (and thoroughly enjoyable) overview of the area's fascinating heritage, check out the Museum of the West. Start with a trip up the Sterling T. Smith Education Tower, where you'll get a 360-degree view of local geology/geography and regional archaeology. Then head inside to travel back to a time of gun-toting outlaws, rickety stagecoaches and one-room schoolhouses.

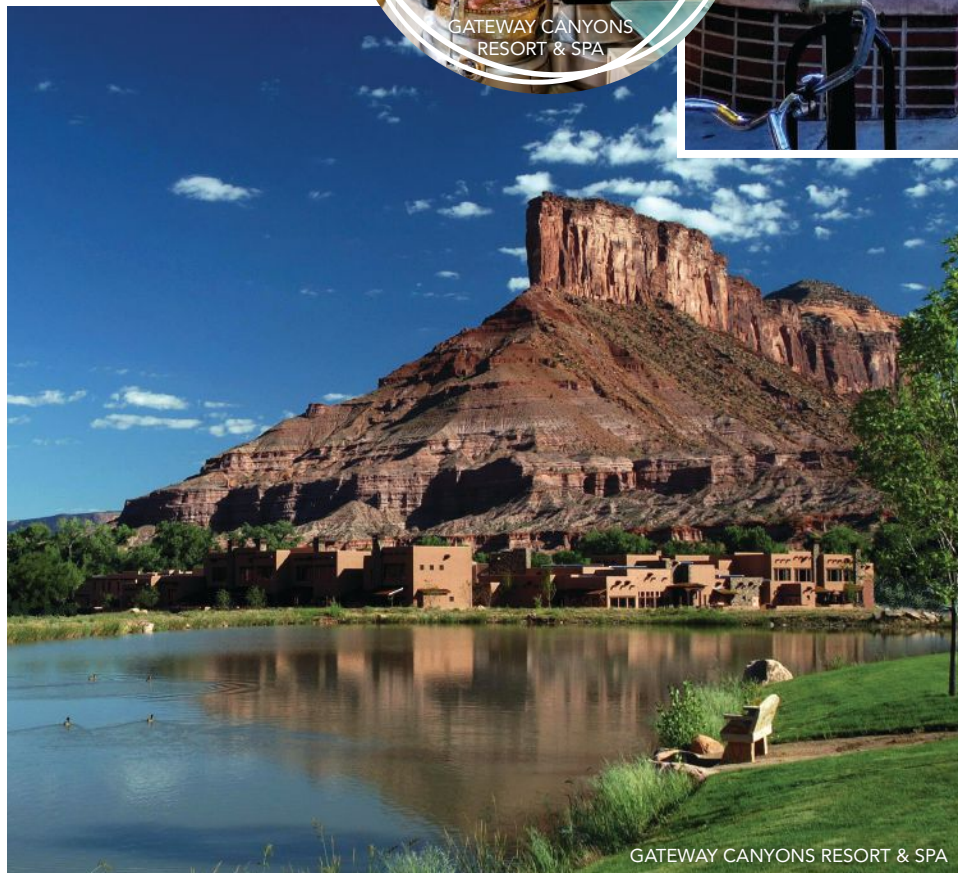

Western Civilization

Take a day trip to the exclusive Gateway Canyons

resort, tucked away in the secluded Unaweep Canyon, about 50 miles southwest of Grand Junction. After enjoying quintessential Colorado experiences like horseback riding and sport shooting, adjourn to the Kayenta Lodge for a relaxing yoga class — then head to the spa for award-winning face and body treatments using locally sourced ingredients.

GATEWAY CANYONS RESORT & SPA

OUTSIDE

Corner Culture

Conceived in 1984 by local sculptor Dave Davis, Art on the Corner is, shall we say, the cornerstone of Grand Junction's art-focused culture. Today, a diverse collection (of more than 100 sculptures) is on permanent display throughout the city's vibrant downtown. Each year, visiting experts curate a temporary sculpture exhibit, and if you think you have the perfect place to relocate a piece to your home — many are for sale.

House to see magical metamorphosis in action.

Purple Reign

Growing conditions in the area are just perfect for lavender. Swing by Belli Fiori Lavender Farm for a stroll through their peaceful fields (they have 1,000 plants in 11 varieties) and browse a variety of items infused with the fragrant herb, including sugars, candles and bath & body care products.

Fresh Finds

No matter what you're planning to do during your Grand Junction getaway, there's no better place to shop for provisions than the Grand Junction area Farmers Markets. Stock up on locally grown fruits, veggies and flowers, as well as a variety of baked goods and other tempting ready-to-eat foods, including artisan gifts, all to the accompaniment of local musicians.

Furry Friends

Some of the area's cutest residents are ready to guide you through a peach orchard at SunCrest Orchard Alpacas and Fiber Works. Learn about the friendly animals, be paired with your own alpaca and take a 45-minute trek through the pastoral landscape. SunCrest also offers Mill Tours, including an overview of how natural fibers are transformed into yarn, as well as a store where you may purchase gifts made from alpaca yarn.

Board Games

Any ol' landlubber can float around on a stand-up paddleboard. But you haven't truly mastered the game until you've tried your hand (and the rest of your body) at SUP yoga with Grand Junction Stand Up Paddle Boarding Co. You'll start with some basic yoga postures on land, then cast off in nearby Highline Lake for a short paddle — followed by an unforgettable floating asana sequence on your paddleboard.

River Dance

It's practically illegal to visit Colorado without attending some kind of outdoor music shindig — which is exactly why places like Ampitheater at Las Colonias Park exist. So grab your picnic blanket, lawn chairs and farmers' market goodies, and head down to this intimate riverfront venue to catch acts like country favorites Sawyer Brown, the Charlie Daniels Band and rock artist, Blue Oyster Cult.

Grape Expectations

What's better than an outdoor concert under clear Colorado skies? An outdoor concert in one of Grand Junction's most popular vineyards boasting spectacular views of the Colorado National Monument: Two Rivers Winery & Chateau. This family-owned winery proudly hosts unforgettable evenings with the Grand Junction Symphony Orchestra. Should you happen to have one glass too many, the Chateau has 10 luxe guest rooms to choose from.

"One of the things I love about the Colorado National Monument is that it's only 10 minutes outside of the city. It's so accessible. When you camp there, it's beautiful during the day but at night you escape the city lights and it's like a whole new place with an awesome view of the sky."

Your Perfect Day in GRAND JUNCTION

With more than our fair share of natural and cultural resources, we've curated five specialized day trips to pique your interest and stimulate your senses — plan your perfect day!

CULINARY CRAFT

Grand Junction offers trendy food with substance, providing you with local farm-to-table nourishment and wine-tasting adventures.

MORNING:

Start strong with a hearty breakfast at Spoons Bistro & Bakery — we especially love the Florentine Benedict, which swaps the traditional ham for spinach, avocado and feta cheese. Next, you're off to Belli Fiori Lavender Farm for a stroll through the fragrant purple fields. The Proietti family has been farming lavender in California and Colorado since 1945; be sure to stop at the Farmhouse Shop to sample Lisa Proietti's heavenly small-batch aromatherapy, bath and culinary products.

AFTERNOON:

Grab a light lunch of seasonal local fare at Bin

707 Foodbar, where Chef Josh Niernberg, a James Beard semifinalist chef, serves up seasonal Colorado cuisine. You can't go wrong with their popular Tempura Artichoke Hearts or Brussel Sprouts Caesar. Get rolling again on a rented eBike or cruiser at Colorado E Bikes to experience the Colorado Riverfront Trail system, 24.5 miles of scenic paved and packed trails connected to Downtown Grand Junction.

Or pedal the Fruit & Wine Byway, a 25-mile system of paved backcountry roads connecting 25 different points of interest — including more than a dozen wineries, fruit stands, and farms. Don't miss High Country Orchards, Colterris Winery, Carlson Vineyards, Alida's Fruits or Aloha Organic Fruit.

EVENING:

End your wining-and-dining day with a relaxing dinner at 626 on Rood, where locally grown produce is perfectly paired with responsibly raised seafood, poultry and game. We're big fans of the Roasted Palisade Plums and Scallops. After your meal, adjourn to Ciarra's Cantina for a Ciaratini and a host of other intriguing libations.

Learn more about Grand Junction-made delights on page 36.

GIRLFRIENDS' GETAWAY

Your main squeeze is great and all, but your BFFs have a much higher capacity for Beaujolais and baby goat videos. This itinerary is for them ... and you.

MORNING:

Rise and shine with a light breakfast at Cafe Sol — not because you're cutting carbs, but because a full tummy may slow your asana down. Your next stop is SunCrest Orchard Alpacas and Fiber Works, where you'll take a Trekking Tour with your own alpaca through the farm's shade dappled orchards (comfy shoes required). On your way out, visit the Farm Store for a souvenir spun from 100 percent alpaca fiber.

AFTERNOON:

Worked up an appetite on your mat? That's good, because Tacoparty offers six appetizers and six tacos, rotating weekly — and you'll probably want to try them all. Next, head over to Fat Cat Pottery to dive into your creative side. As a hands-on pottery studio, you can design ready-to-paint ceramics or throw and sculpt your own masterpiece.

Unplug and paint outside the lines.

Speaking of souvenirs, nothing says "girls' trip" like a boutique crawl. Get your retail therapy at Klik (stylish/edgy), Pollux (vibrant/trendy) and Zephyr (upscale/designer). Then wrap up your afternoon with a wine tasting and tour at Two Rivers Winery and Chateau, which offers a wide range of award-winning varietals to try.

EVENING:

Tonight, you're destined for Le Rouge Restaurant and Piano Bar, where upscale French-inspired cuisine (savory crepes and Courvoisier Terrine, ma jolie amie?) is accompanied by an impressive list of artisan cocktails and high-quality live jazz. It's the perfect way to wind down after your whirlwind "chic" day.

JET BOAT COLORADO

FAM JAM

The key to a truly memorable family day is balancing variety and adrenaline with just enough down time. Try this itinerary on for size.

MORNING:

The day's journey begins at Main Street Bagels, where the whole family can fuel up on house-made treats — including bagels, artisan bread, handcrafted granola and a variety of other baked goodies. Hot Tip: take a bag of their Peanut Butter Crunch granola for later, after the adrenaline rush of your morning with Jet Boat Colorado wears off.

Yes, you're about to embark upon the ride of a lifetime, on a New Zealand-style jet-boat ride through the twists and turns of the Colorado River. The scenery of Colorado's canyon country is decidedly breathtaking ... but it's your expert driver's thrilling moves, including fishtails, power slides and speed runs, that will leave your little ones gasping with supercharged delight.

AFTERNOON:

After your midday meal selected from Rockside Restaurant & Brewery's expansive, something-for-everyone menu, let the kids choose their own adventure! Experience an earthquake and uncover Jurassic-era bones at the interactive, hands-on Dinosaur Journey. Watch a real beehive in action at the EUREKA! McConnell Science Museum, along with more than 100 other exhibits designed to make the wonders of science accessible to all ages. Also check out Get Air Trampoline Park and Bananas Fun Park too!

Need a sweet afternoon pick-me-up? Gelato Junction boasts nearly 80 flavors of the creamy confection, with unique ones like apple pie and the traditional Italian flavors of Zabajone — as well as soda-fountain classics like sundaes and shakes.

EVENING:

Perk up your little peeps with dinner at Enzo's, where delights like The Meat-Baller Calzone and Oregono Orange Brandy Chicken Scaloppini are made from scratch while you enjoy a mouth-watering Asiago Artichoke Dip. Then scoot down to the Grand Junction Motor Speedway, where kids as young as 5 can pilot karts around the world-class sprint track. You'll squeal with excitement as they zoom across the finish line.

GELATO JUNCTION

GATEWAY CANYONS AUTO MUSEUM

HISTORY HOUND

From disco-era muscle cars to dinosaur bones and beyond, this educational yet exhilarating itinerary looks to both earth and sky in its search for enlightenment.

MORNING:

Start your journey into the past at Dream Cafe, where the owners promise to help you “dine on Cloud 9.” Order their daily specialty: fluffy, house-made cinnamon rolls roughly the size of your head.

This sugary sustenance will energize you through an informative morning walking the Dinosaur Hill Interpretive Trail, a mile-long self-guided hike that hits 10 points of geological and paleontological interest. For a more unstructured exploration, visit the nearby Fruita Paleontological Area; this half-mile patch of scrubby bentonite cradles a perfectly preserved slice of the Jurassic Period. Keep your eyes peeled for real-life fossil hunters.

AFTERNOON:

Break for lunch in historic Downtown Grand Junction at one of the longest-operating businesses in the downtown area, Blue Moon Bar & Grille, where the globally inspired menu feels like a journey in and of itself. Then head over to the Museum of the West, where the interdisciplinary Western Investigations Team works to solve enduring mysteries of local heritage — including the gruesome tale of Colorado’s infamous prospector turned cannibal, Alferd Packer. Learn about their latest project before striking out for Gateway Canyons, an exclusive resort built and formerly owned by Discovery Channel founder, John Hendricks. His Auto Museum is home to more than 60 mint-condition automobiles dating from 1906–1971. We promise you can’t imagine how amazing this collection is, so be sure to visit.

EVENING:

For a crash course in Italian culinary history, you’ll dine at il Bistro Italiano, where owner and Chef Brunella puts a Colorado-style spin on traditional dishes from her native land, Bibbiano, Italy. Then, it’s time for the ultimate nightcap: stargazing at the Colorado National Monument.

GRAND GETAWAY

Using Grand Junction as your home base, take your daytime explorations farther afield in surrounding towns to unpack all the area has to offer.

MORNING:

There's no better way to kick off a day of cycling than a visit to Cafe Sol in Downtown Grand Junction. Locals love the daily quiche du jour and the dutch baby pancakes. For a heartier option, consider the generously packed breakfast burrito bursting with over a dozen ingredients to choose from.

Once you've fueled up for the day, take on Grand Junction's iconic Lunch Loops, which offers thrilling mountain biking trails amid the dips and ridges of the vast canyons near Colorado National Monument. Loops, 2 to 28 miles long, range from moderate to difficult.

AFTERNOON:

Kick off the afternoon with lunch at Pablo's Pizza. Inspired by Pablo Picasso, their revolutionary, one-of-a-kind pizzas are every bit as creative as the artist. Their daily house-made dough is topped with only the freshest ingredients that includes locally sourced products. While the entire menu is mouthwatering, go straight for the seasonal pie creations which are designed by locals.

After your meal, take a picturesque float trip through wine country to Corn Lake State Park. Palisade River Trips offers guided trips and self-guided rentals. You'll work up a thirst out there on the water, so your next stop is the Highlands Distillery's tasting room for sips of your favorite spirits — with emphasis on expert infusions made with local flavors, including lavender infusions from Belli Fiori Lavender Farms.

If a crisp hard cider's more your speed, hit up Talbott's Farm Market and Taproom for fruity flavors forged over five generations. Then walk off your buzz amid the creative musings of Palisade Art Vision, a rotating collection of public sculpture installations from local and regional artists.

EVENING:

Your night starts with an early dinner at Devil's Kitchen. The Grand Junction sunset reflects off the Book Cliffs unveiling a magical backdrop when dining on the spacious rooftop patio. Try their signature Deviled Kitchen Eggs or their crispy Duck Wings. The regionally inspired menu, combined with the views, make this spot as grand as they come. Then get ready for a brief return to the Old West at the Rimrock Rodeo, where local cowpokes compete in events like barrel racing, bull riding, calf roping, mutton bustin' and more (Tuesday evenings, June–August).

GET OUTSIDE: GRAND JUNCTION'S PUBLIC LANDS BY THE NUMBERS

Rivers that beckon paddlers, anglers and floaters. Verdant city and state parks teeming with trails and translucent lakes. Open spaces thick with pinyon-juniper forests. Surreal canyonlands and other majestic landscapes. Grand Junction's public lands come in many shapes and forms. And since 76 percent of the area's lands are public, there are more than 1.5 million acres to explore.

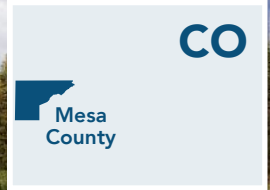

Fun Fact

Seventy-six percent of Mesa County is public land. The 3,341-square-mile county is larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined.

Bonus:

Unparalleled convenience (many natural areas are located within just 30 minutes of the city and easily accessible) and fewer crowds than other Colorado mountain towns make experiencing one-on-one time with nature even easier.

1,559,551 Acres of Public Lands IN MESA COUNTY

Fun Fact

The highest peak in Mesa County is Leon Peak at 11,241 feet.

4 SEASONS OF OUTDOOR PURSUITS

With our diverse landscapes and ample wide-open space, epic adventure is a year-round pursuit in western Colorado. Here's your season-by-season guide to getting the most out of Grand Junction's great outdoors — no matter what time of year you plan to visit.

ASPENS ON THE GRAND MESA

FALL

Hiking

There are countless places to catch a glimpse of the brilliant fall colors on the Grand Mesa, but it's hard to top the 11-mile Crag Crest Trail — literally. High atop the mesa at a dizzying 11,170 feet, Crag Crest gives you a bird's-eye view of mountainsides gilded with shimmering aspens. Find more hiking trails on page 8 and at VisitGrandJunction.com/HikingTrails.

Hunting

The Grand Junction area is a mecca for big game and big birds, starting at the Uncompahgre Plateau all the way to the White River and Gunnison National Forests. Hunting season for elk, pronghorn, deer, moose, desert bighorn sheep and other game runs from September through mid-November, while winter brings scores of ducks and geese to the Colorado River.

Fishing

FUN FACT: Grand Junction is named for the convergence of the Colorado and Gunnison rivers — two fantastic spots for trout fishing in our crisp-yet-sunny fall weather. The high-elevation lakes and streams of the Grand Mesa are also great destinations. Learn more about hunting and fishing at VisitGrandJunction.com/HuntingFishing.

Before setting out on your hunting or fishing excursion, you'll need to obtain the proper license from Colorado Parks and Wildlife — either online at Cpw.state.co.us, or at CPW's local offices and license vendors around the state.

WINTER

Skiing & Snowboarding

As Snow's Perfect State™, we don't need to remind you that Colorado is a winter-sports wonderland, but we never tire of talking up Powderhorn Mountain Resort. The Grand Mesa resort averages 250 inches of light, dry powder each year and boasts some of the best glade skiing in the state. Powderhorn is affordable and only 45 minutes from Grand Junction.

Snowmobiling

Have a need for speed? Get your motor running on the Sunlight to Powderhorn Trail. This 120-mile route runs from Sunlight Mountain outside of Glenwood Springs to Powderhorn Mountain on the Grand Mesa, with spectacular mountain backdrops and access to an additional 180 miles of trails along the way. Don't have a snow machine? Fret not, there are many rental shops to choose from.

Cross Country Skiing & Snowshoeing

The heavy snowfall and flat-top mountain terrain of the Grand Mesa make it a shoe-in for cross-country skiing, skate skiing and snowshoeing, thanks in large part to the Grand Mesa Nordic Council, which maintains 31 miles of glorious, groomed trails. Like to go off-piste? Pristine, ungroomed backcountry skiing is also available on the mesa. Find more winter activities in Grand Junction at VisitGrandJunction.com/Blog/Snow-Much-Fun-Grand-Junction.

CROSS COUNTRY SKIING ON GRAND MESA

Follow the Locals

"The Grand Mesa, which tops out at just over 11,000 feet and is only 45 minutes from Downtown Grand Junction, is a true winter wonderland. While we like alpine skiing and cross-country skiing at Powderhorn, there is also a wealth of opportunity for snowmobiling."

SUMMER

Golfing

If your idea of a great day on the links includes immaculately groomed greens and red-rock canyons rising in the distance, you'll love playing golf in Grand Junction. Tiara Rado, Redlands Mesa (rated the No. 1 Course in Colorado by Golfweek) and Adobe Creek all afford golfers stunning vistas of Colorado National Monument, while breathtaking views of the sandstone Book Cliffs and other surrounding mountain ranges can be found at Chipeta and Lincoln Park golf courses. Learn more at VisitGrandJunction.com/Golf.

Camping

In the height of summer, temperatures stay cool on top of the Grand Mesa. Pitch your tent high above the heat at Island Lake or Ward Lake campgrounds, both at 10,000 feet and where you can enjoy wildflower hikes and top-notch lake fishing. Alternatively, the grassy, shaded Book Cliffs Campground at Highline Lake State Park in Loma is the perfect home base for all types of water recreation, including swimming, boating and bass fishing. Find more campsites at VisitGrandJunction.com/Campsites.

Whitewater Rafting

The Colorado River runs just south of Downtown Grand Junction, but it's the Westwater Canyon stretch — about 30 miles down the river — where the region's most popular whitewater rafting trips commence. Connect with a local outfitter (see listings on page 44) to book an epic day on the water and learn more at VisitGrandJunction.com/Rafting.

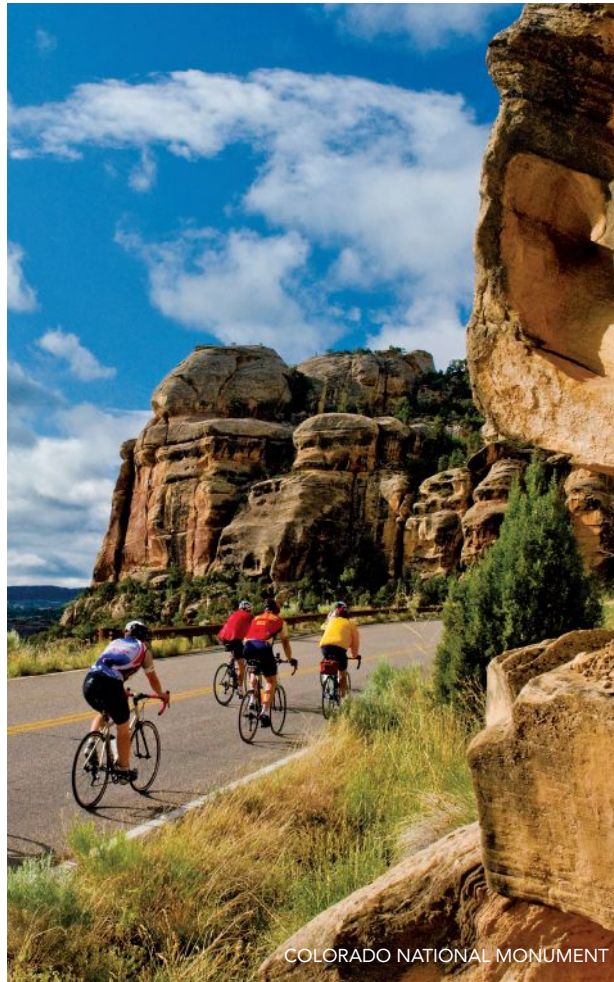

SPRING

Road & Mountain Biking

Choose between sweeping views of Rim Rock Drive at Colorado National Monument, ridgeline rides of 18 Road or the ultra-technical twists and turns of Lunch Loops — Grand Junction is blessed with some of the best cycling in the world. Come springtime, the region plays host to a number of biking events, like the Grand Enduro and the Grand Junction Off-Road Mountain Bike Endurance Event.

Birding

Better bring your binoculars: The Riverfront Trail System is home to the 1.5-mile Audubon Section, just across the Colorado River from Downtown Grand Junction. Paved and perfect for hiking or biking, the trail offers delightful opportunities to spot blue heron, osprey, hawks and more. Discover more at VisitGrandJunction.com/Spring.

Year-Round Dirt

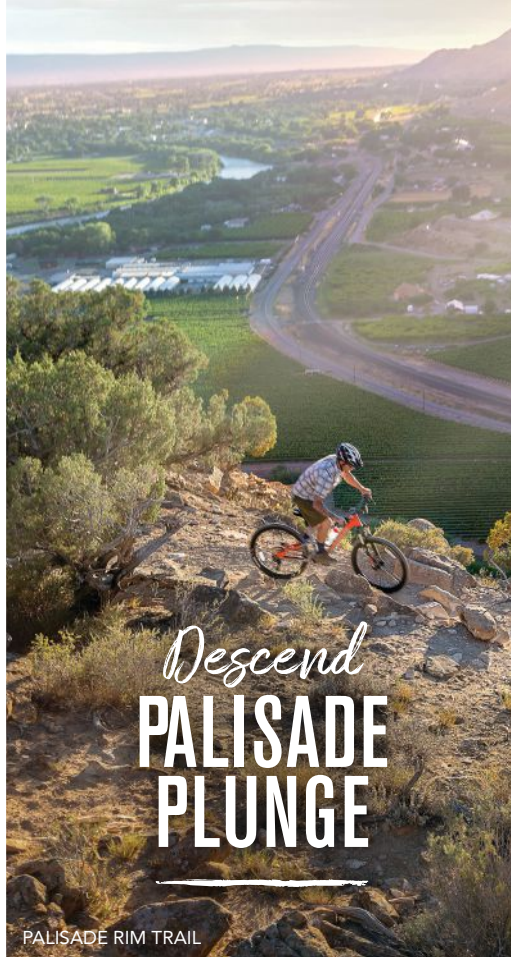

With hundreds of roads and trails to power your engines on, there are unlimited options to enjoy your off-highway vehicle (OHV) on, including your side-by-side, ATV, dirt bike and four-wheel drive. Many of the trails are open year-round.

Popular Trails

Access points around Grand Junction offer over 480,000 acres of public lands that are open to OHV travel. Trails in OHV areas zig-zag back and forth across the striking landscape. Bangs Canyon and Rabbit Valley Recreation Area are two popular OHV areas in Grand Junction. The Grand Mesa and North Fruita Desert also fun areas offering a labyrinth of trails.

Single Track

For avid dirt bike riders looking for single track, you will be surprised by the network of trails available in the Grand Junction area – check out Third Flats. We’ve all heard of Moab, but there is vastly more single track here. Bring your own machinery or rent from several businesses who carry a wide range of inventory.

PALISADE PLUNGE

One-Of-A-Kind Descent

Plunge from the top of the Grand Mesa National Forest for 32 miles of downhill single-track adrenaline-pumping action. The Plunge trail connects the top of the Grand Mesa to the valley with 6000 feet in elevation descent through pristine public lands.

Rooted in History

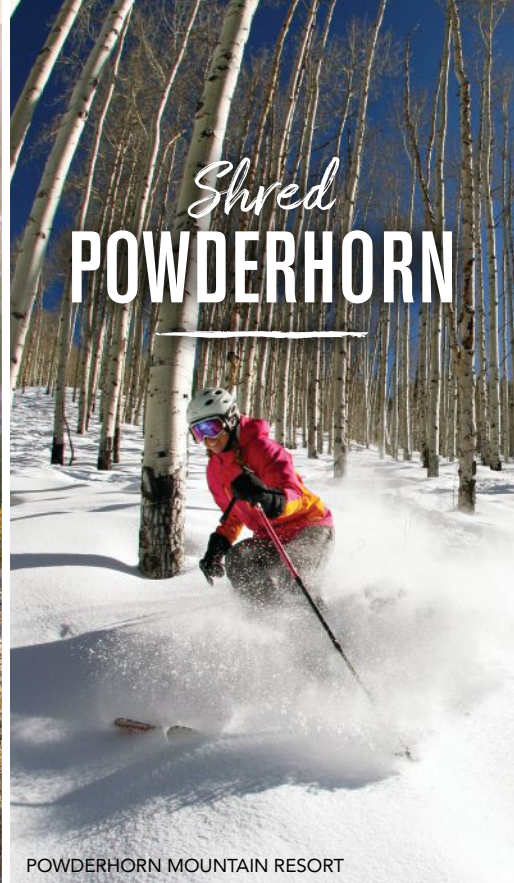

The route connects a variety of trails on top of the Grand Mesa which are steeped in history. John Otto forged new paths more than a century ago. Otto was a local explorer who was Colorado National Monument’s first custodian, and was the main advocate for getting the Monument recognized as part of the National Park System.

Scenery

The single-track trail winds through aspen groves, alpine forests and high desert, some of which has long been unused for hundreds of years, except by 4th generation ranchers and their cattle.

POWDERHORN MOUNTAIN RESORT

POWDERHORN

Cool Vibe

Colorado is known for its huge resorts and high-end mountain villages, but the smaller ski resorts continue to grow and gain considerable interest. Affordable, family-friendly, no I-70 traffic jam (just 45 minutes from Grand Junction) and a comfortable vibe is why Powderhorn continues to attract newcomers.

Powder

On average 250 inches of white fluffy snow blankets this ski resort which offers 1,600 feet of elevation gain and access to over 60 runs with 20 percent green, 50 percent blue and 30 percent black. Bear Claw, Mudslide, and Cannonball are a few favorites. From the top of the mountain, you can access an abundance of backcountry runs.

Tree Skiing

Another quality that sets Powderhorn apart is the tree skiing. Much of the resort is covered with pine trees and dense aspen groves, making for unique powder-filled runs. Some of the best tree skiing on the mountain is accessed from the West End lift.

A DIFFERENT SIDE OF COLORADO

After living on the Front Range of Colorado for 25 years, I thought I knew Colorado inside and out. From adventuring in Rocky Mountain National Park to rafting the Arkansas River, climbing 14'ers to crawling up the Incline, hanging out at countless festivals to fine dining and craft beverage tasting – this and so much more is the Colorado we all know.

So, when I found myself moving to Grand Junction for a new gig, I certainly didn't think it would offer much of anything I hadn't experienced already. I couldn't have been more wrong! Here are just a few of the pleasant surprises that make me feel incredibly blessed to now call this special place home.

First off, Colorado National Monument blew my mind. Why isn't this breathtaking place a national park? I've never seen such striking landscapes. Seeing millions of years of the Earth's history in plain view in the exposed canyons provides me much-needed perspective. And finally, I get to experience night skies just a few minutes' drive outside of Downtown. Hello world!

I can hike on a ton of trails in plain ol' sneakers year-round. Grand Junction is high desert, which provides for mild climate all year, yet there are still four beautiful and unique seasons. Growing up on the East

HELLO GRAND JUNCTION

Coast, I like my seasons separate and distinct.

With so much public land and plenty of wide-open spaces, it's easy to adventure outdoors and not see a soul. It gets more and more difficult to recreate in other parts of Colorado and escape the crowds, but not in Grand Junction! It feels so roomy out here on this side of the Divide. I heard this when I arrived here and I am pretty convinced - Mother Nature really does play favorites.

No traffic and plenty of parking. You don't believe me, do you? It's true! It's so easy to get around Grand Junction, and parking downtown is a breeze. The parking meters are only 50 cents per hour and free after 4 pm, including free weekends and holidays! Am I in Mayberry?

Agriculture! Farmland, pastures, vineyards and orchards weave through the area providing the sweetest produce I've ever tasted. I can pick my own or enjoy the area's fresh ingredients at the locally owned restaurants. There is a strong network of chefs in town who build their menus around locally sourced ingredients.

Grand Mesa is incredible. How have I not heard of this place? It's the largest flat-top mountain in the world, and covered in hundreds of lakes. Name any outdoor activity and you can pretty much do it here. Winter offers every snow sport from skiing to ice fishing. Spring flowers are abundant with gushing waterfalls nearby. Summer offers the perfect playground for water sports without the crowds. And Fall colors shower the Mesa in a kaleidoscope of bright hues.

There is so much more to write about, it's difficult to stop here; but I'll close with sharing that the authentic western hospitality culture is alive and well in Junction. Whether you walk downtown or are in the grocery store, locals look you in the eye, smile and say hi! Overall, my only regret is not relocating here sooner. I feel like it's the Colorado I moved to so many years ago; but with all the changes in the state, I thought my quintessential Colorado was long gone. I'm so happy "the Colorado you expect" is alive and well in Grand Junction!

GOODBYE FRONT RANGE

LET YOUR EVENT COME TOGETHER HERE: WEDDINGS, CONFERENCES & BEYOND

Plenty to see and do around every corner, spacious gathering places, an excellent location on Interstate 70 and some of Colorado's most breathtaking landscapes make Grand Junction a flawless destination for gatherings big and small. Don't forget that Grand Junction Regional Airport is the fourth-busiest airport in the state, offering many direct flights to accommodate your conference attendees (learn more about flights on page 56).

WEDDINGS

There are so many unique sites to say "I do" — picture a backdrop of multicolored rock spires framed by clear blue skies at Colorado National Monument or imagine your processional among vineyards at Two Rivers Winery. Dazzle your guests with a ceremony on the Avalon Theatre's rooftop terrace, where vistas of Downtown Grand Junction, the surrounding Book Cliffs, the Grand Mesa and Colorado National Monument provide the perfect backdrop for vows and views you'll cherish for a lifetime. The roomy mezzanine level is ideal for receptions.

Discover more picture-perfect venues at VisitGrandJunction.com/Weddings.

MEETINGS

Grand Junction has over 3,200 hotel rooms and 105,000 square feet of meeting space at properties of various sizes that can accommodate any price range. Located at the heart of Downtown Grand Junction, Grand Junction Convention Center is the largest convention center between Denver and Salt Lake City and can host groups of up to 2,000 people in 23,000 square feet of meeting and exhibit space.

Colorado Mesa University offers 20,000 square feet of indoor event space, including the 8,500-square-foot Meyer Ballroom accommodating 500 people. Tiara Rado Golf Course has the capacity to host up to 175 people, complemented by picturesque panoramas of the Colorado National Monument and the golf course; the perfect setting for team building opportunities.

Affordable Lodging

Grand Junction is one of the most affordable places for groups of all sizes to visit in Colorado, especially when it comes to lodging — no matter what season. It's your basecamp for adventure.

Boutique Event Venue

The Glorious Fig offers curated dining experiences complete with celebrated chefs and acclaimed mixologist for your private event up to 135 people. Eat, Drink, and Be Glorious!

TEAM BUILDING

Grand Junction abounds with activities that stimulate conversation and collaboration. Plan a ranger-led tour or group hiking excursion in the Colorado National Monument, a ski trip to Powderhorn Resort or a First Friday outing in Grand Junction's Certified Creative District. Tastings at wineries and vineyards such as Talon or Two Rivers wineries, both situated near Downtown Grand Junction by many meeting spaces and hotels, are also popular group outings.

If volunteering is part of your meeting's agenda, there is no better way to learn about a city than spending a couple of hours with an organization with a mission that is important to the community, such as Western Slope Food Bank, Kids Aid Backpack Program, Roice-Hurst Humane Society or the Veterans Memorial Cemetery — just to name a few!

GRAND JUNCTION

Through Your DOG'S EYES

Four-legged visitors adore Grand Junction's outdoor splendor just as much as you do — so why leave a member of the family at home? Here are some signature activities that will earn you two paws up from your canine best friend.

HUNTING

Whether you have a fowl- and small-game pointer or retriever or large-game tracking hound, we know your furry friend is an indispensable hunting companion. Bring them along for an epic elk- and deer-hunting adventure in the Grand Mesa National Forest or Uncompahgre Plateau, or to help you peg geese and ducks along the Colorado River (public lands portions only). Learn more about hunting in the Grand Junction area on page 28 and at VisitGrandJunction.com/Hunting.

PATIO CHILLIN'

Soak up some sunshine on one of the many patios that allow leashed pooches. Grab some hearty grub at Spoons Bistro & Bakery or check out Enzo's, which has a couple of patios that overlook Bookcliff Country Club. The Baker's Boutique is located at the entrance to Canyon View Park - check it out, your pup would love to take you for a stroll in the City's largest park, nicely-groomed with lush grass.

SUP

There are seemingly endless places to launch your stand-up paddleboard, from the Grand Mesa National Forest's 300 glassy lakes to the peaceful Colorado River, and pups with stellar balancing skills can go along for the ride. Need a board? Outfitters like Grand Junction Stand Up Paddle Board have your back.

TRAIL SNIFFING

Enjoy hiking with your tail-wagging pal? With the exception of Colorado National Monument, where dogs are prohibited on trails, most hiking routes in the Grand Junction area are open to dogs. Go for an easy ramble through cottonwood groves and wetlands on the 24.5-mile Riverfront Trail (one-way) or score unparalleled sunset views of the Grand Mesa on the 8-mile Palisade Rim Trail. Leash laws vary at different locales, so be sure to review them before you head out.

Off-Leash Areas

While all of our city and state parks permit leashed dogs, here's where you can let your companion frolic off leash.

GRAND MESA & UNCOMPAHGRE NATIONAL FORESTS

Our expansive national forests, including the Grand Mesa, have areas that are great places to let your pal explore untethered as long as they are under voice control. Other areas allow dogs on leashes no longer than 6 feet in developed recreation areas. Check regulations in individual destinations for details.

CANYON VIEW DOG PARK

Views of the Book Cliffs and two separate areas for small and large breeds make Canyon View Dog Park a favorite for two- and four-legged friends alike.

RIVERBEND PARK

Conveniently tucked right off Interstate 70, this Palisade green space is a nice spot where pups can take a dip in the Colorado River.

MEET AN AWARD-WINNING GRAND JUNCTION CHEF

Theo Otte is the executive chef behind Grand Junction's critically acclaimed grand eatery 626 on Rood — named a Good Food 100 Restaurant for its commitment to sustainability and supporting local food systems. Here, Chef Theo shares insight into the ethos behind his restaurant, his passion for cooking and what he loves most about Grand Junction.

Why did you decide to live and open your restaurant in Grand Junction?

My wife and business partner, Brenda, is originally from Grand Junction. When she decided she wanted to move back, I followed her and immediately fell in love with the area. Standing in the valley surrounded by the Grand Mesa, the Book Cliffs and Colorado National Monument, we knew this was where we wanted to be.

Why is sourcing food locally important to you?

For us, sourcing everything we can locally is about being the best we can be for our community. We want to know where our ingredients come from, and that the people growing our food care as much about it as we do. We love getting to know the area's farmers and ranchers. By supporting the hard work and dedication they put into their farms, including produce and livestock, it provides greater meaning toward the service we provide here. To us, that's really special.

What's your favorite season for fresh produce in the Grand Junction area?

I love the last two weeks of August. With a little help from Mother Nature, everything is at its peak during those last two weeks. Also, I love Palisade peaches, and that's the time of the season when they are the juiciest. They have the perfect amount of time to develop sugar, providing for the sweetest peaches around, and that's what they are known for.

626 on Rood has a notable wine collection. Where does that love of wine come from?

It all comes back to food. Sure, we have a few wines just for sitting on the porch and sipping, but whenever I taste wine, I'm always thinking about the food. What's on the menu that this wine would pair well with? Will this help bring out the flavor or is it overwhelming? Food and wine were made to go together. The perfect glass paired with the right entree will elevate both to new levels of character.

What about your passion for cooking, where does that come from?

I grew up on the east coast in a large Italian family. Big family meals were a part of growing up, and we were always using old family recipes. Cooking and food were important to us. I grew up learning to appreciate and eventually love the art of it.

What are your favorite things to do in Grand Junction in your spare time?

We love to be outside and enjoy the natural beauty of our home. There are endless trails that we hike on with our dog, and we enjoy spending time at many of the parks along the Colorado River. We've never been anywhere else that has such easy access to so much recreation and a wide variety of activities.

REDISCOVERY & REAWAKENING

Returning to something you thought you recognized, only to realize that it's irresistibly new again. As Heraclitus mused, "No man ever steps in the same river twice, for it's not the same river and he's not the same man."

The Grand Junction area has always felt like home to me. I studied at CMU and began my adult life in Grand Junction. Over the last 15 years I've departed, explored, and returned many times; beckoned by that elusive gravitational pull of Grand Junction. She is a mysterious lover, one that natives and visitors alike will attest to.

If you grew up here, you've likely heard of this enigmatic force referred to as more of a curse than a blessing. "Take some dirt with you when you leave, or you'll be back in no time." A common refrain that ostensibly speaks to our deeper sense that there's something unique, if not downright special here – a secret so utterly enchanting that you might find yourself powerless against its charm.

Living and working elsewhere has helped me appreciate just how unrestrained our access to a pristine natural experience truly is in Grand Junction. The friction between daily life and a profound connection to the sublime beauty of the outdoors is almost nonexistent here.

I choose to experience this churning vortex of Grand Junction's energy as a siren's call, alluring me back into the wild, the uncharted and the unexplored. The dynamism of the environment in this part of the country will always present new challenges and wonders; I welcome that unknown frontier with a quickening of spirit and a heightened sense of adventure.

Those willing to venture out and explore Grand Junction will inevitably find something new and vital in themselves, and in our shared connection to something much bigger. A stirring in their soul that is exquisitely reflected in the overwhelming beauty of this ever-changing landscape.

So give in, surrender and dive deeply into the rugged and unspoiled intrigue of this Western Wonderland.

Did You Know? Colorado National Monument's 32 square miles encompass 11 canyons and more than 40 miles of hiking trails.

LEAVE NO TRACE – CARE FOR COLORADO PRINCIPLES

01 KNOW BEFORE YOU GO

- Our state and federal agencies manage 42 percent of Colorado's majestic landscape, and our cities and counties maintain even more. Learn about and respect the spaces we all share.
- Stay back from the pack. Find your way to less-visited and off-peak destinations to minimize down time and maximize your connection with special places.
- Bring along reusable water bottles or hot drink tumblers to limit waste and stay hydrated in our dry climate.

02 STICK TO TRAILS

- With 39,000 marked trails and 13,000 designated campsites, there's no need to venture beyond. By sticking to these areas and camping at least 200 feet from lakes, rivers and streams, you're helping natural areas stay natural.
- Even though shortcuts can be tempting, please don't take them. A few extra strides on the path will protect plants and the homes of the true locals.

03 LEAVE IT AS YOU FIND IT

- Leave plants, rocks and historical items as you find them so others experience the joy of discovery.
- Any of our 750 different species of wildflowers will live forever in a photo. Snap away, but only with a camera.
- Colorado is beautiful all on its own. Building structures or campsites on public land isn't cool. Keep it pristine for everyone to enjoy.
- Treat all living things with respect. Carving or hacking plants and trees may kill or disfigure them.

04 TRASH THE TRASH

- Pack it in, pack it out. Or pick it up to leave a place better than you found it. Put litter, even crumbs, peels and cores in your nearest waste/recycling bin.
- Wash yourself, your dog or whatever else needs cleaning at least 200 feet from waterways, and use biodegradable soap. A bubble bath is no treat for fish.
- If you have to poo, walk at least 70 steps from trails, water and people. Dig a cat hole 6 inches deep, do your thing in the hole, cover it and pack out your TP. Or, use a wag bag (a disposable bag found in most outdoor stores) so you can pack out your waste.

05 BE CAREFUL WITH FIRE

- Colorado's low humidity has perks, but can create dry, dangerous conditions. Keep campfires small and manageable to avoid sparking wildfires.
- When putting out a fire, water it until you can handle the embers. Never let a fire burn unattended.
- Use care when smoking in Colorado's dry climate. Always put cigarettes out completely, and don't leave your butts behind.
- Always check for local fire restrictions.

06 KEEP WILDLIFE WILD

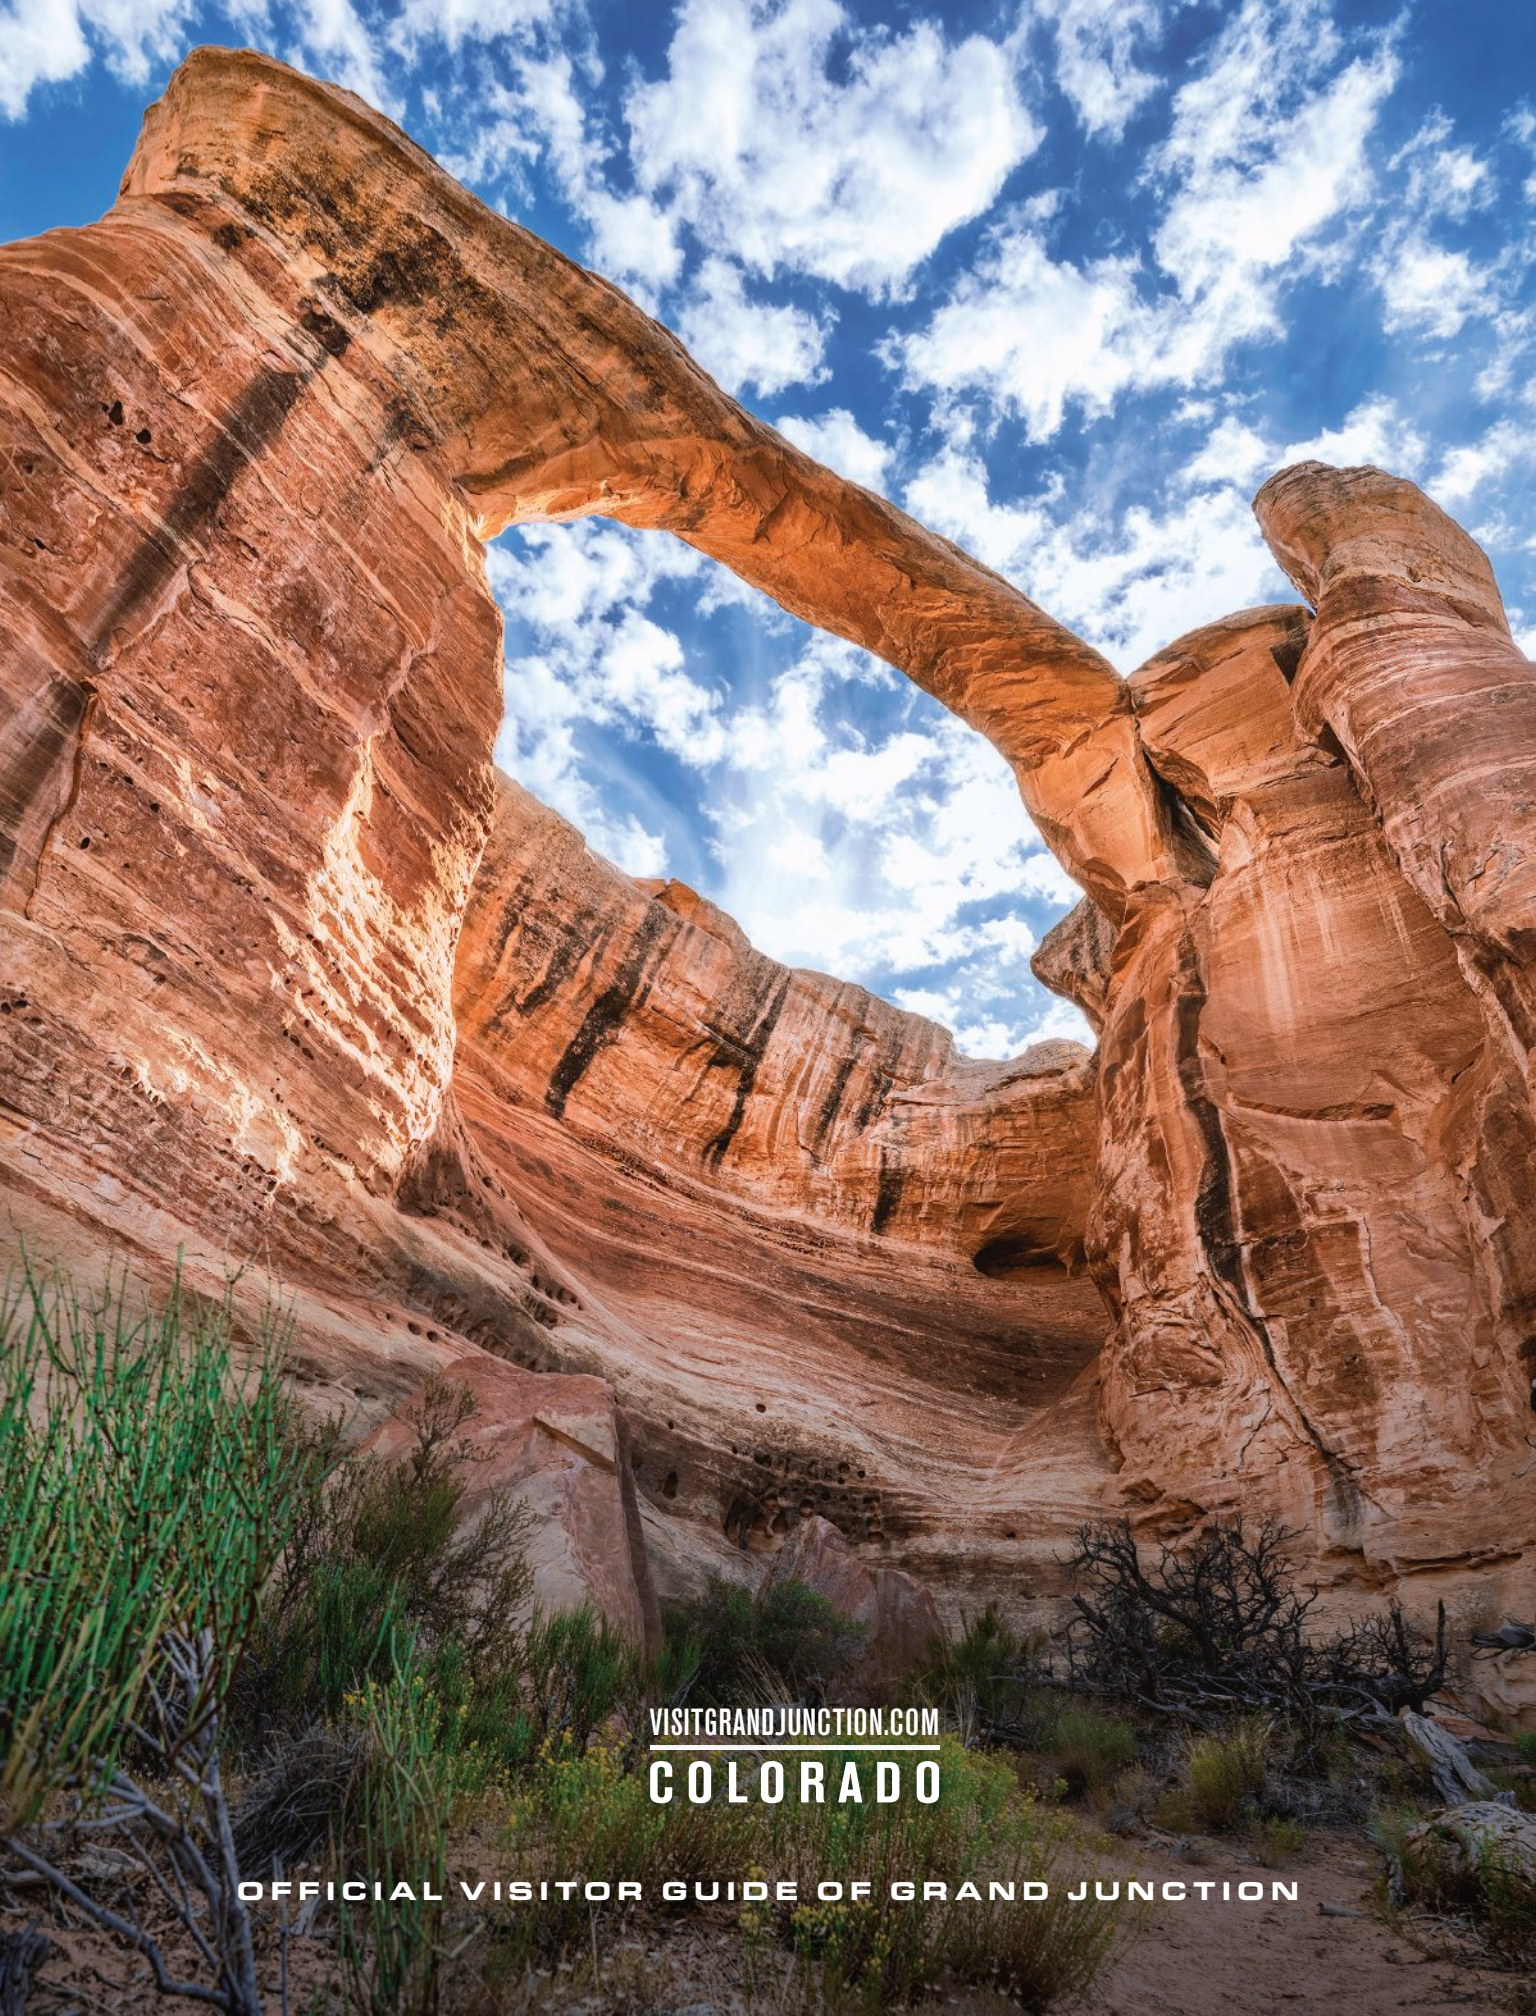

- Colorado is home to tens of thousands of furry, scaly and feathered creatures. To keep them – and you – safe, don't approach them.
- It is not adorable to feed wild animals. You could alter natural behaviors, exposing them to predators or even euthanasia.
- Keep your furry buddies leashed when enjoying dog-friendly trails, and pack out their waste. All the way to a trashcan.

07 SHARE OUR TRAILS & PARKS

- Chances are you're not out in nature to people watch, so try out the lesser-known paths and sites.
- Silence your cell phone before stepping into nature, and speak softly without using the speaker function.
- Be considerate when passing others on the trails and yield to the uphill hiker and biker – they need the momentum.
- Listen to nature. Keep your voice and music soft so all can enjoy the peace of Colorado.
